Southland Fire Chiefs Open Convention

IMPORTANCE OF BUILDING CODES CITED

Proper Treatment of Burns
on Body Told by Speaker;
Dinner, Dance Tonight

With City Councilman William H. Penn delivering the welcome address, the twenty-first semi-annual convention of the Southern California Fire Chiefs' club opened this morning in a colorful setting, made unusually appropriate by Santa Ana's bedecked and fire-proof city hall, and with nearly 150 attending.

Douglas Presides

Assembling in the large council chamber where the speakers' dais was decorated on the one side by the American flag and on the other by the California State flag, the chiefs came to order with the sound of the gavel in hands of President Chief Harry J. Douglas of Huntington Beach.

Three addresses followed directly after invocation by the Rev. Harry Evan Owens, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Santa Ana, the singing of "America," and other formalities.

Tobias Praises City

Fire Chief E. J. Tobias, of Garden Grove, responded to the address of Councilman Penn, who appeared in the place of Mayor Fred C. Rowland, who was ill with influenza at his home. Tobias paid high tribute to the city, county, and to the local fire-fighters.

WEDS SOON
Ann Harding, film actress, is to wed Werner Janssen, symphony orchestra conductor, according to notice filed at Caxton hall register office in London today.

REBELS LAUNCH FIERCE ATTACK

MADRID, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Gen. Francisco Franco threw his main army against the loyalist defense lines on the west and northwest early today in another desperate attempt to capture Madrid.

After 10 hours of continuous fighting, accompanied by an incessant roar of the heaviest artillery on both sides, the government lines still held.

Wave after wave of attacking insurgent troops were turned back with heavy losses as the loyalist artillery hammered away at their lines of communications to prevent replacements from coming up.

Their losses were reported heavy as the insurgents, attacking under cover of darkness all along the Manzanares river, hurled themselves against the heavily fortified government trenches in an effort to dislodge the defenders through sheer weight of man power.

GOVERNMENT PLANES DROP BOMBS ON ALGERIRAS

GIBRALTAR, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Four government planes dropped bombs on Algeriras this afternoon.

Dense clouds of smoke could be seen at Gibraltar from the vicinity of the Hotel Cristina at Algeriras after the bombing.

The air raiders were forced to maintain a high altitude by fire from shore batteries and from a gunboat which was outside Algeriras harbor, escorting a steamer believed to be carrying wounded men to Ceuta from Estepona.

The raiders left for the east after the bombing. Rebel planes were ordered to try to cut them off.

HOLD BROKER IN HIT-RUN DEATH

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 15.—(UP)—Logan F. Metcalf, a broker and former husband of Madge Bellamy, screen actress, was arrested today on suspicion of negligent homicide and hit-and-run driving in connection with the death of John Milner, 67-year-old character actor.

Basil Rathbone, famous stage actor, narrowly escaped injury in the accident which resulted in Milner's death.

Rathbone took down what he believed was the license number of the automobile and on the basis of that number, Metcalf was taken into custody at his Manhattan Beach home.

The 45-year-old broker denied responsibility for the accident, according to police, declaring he was driving behind the automobile which killed Milner.

Officers who examined Metcalf's automobile, declared that the windshield was broken.

Fred Smith Club Holds First Party

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—(UP)—The Benevolent and Protective and Completely Universal Order of Fred Smiths of America considered itself organized today after 34 Fred Smiths and 14 Mrs. Fred Smiths gathered to drink from the cup that cheers.

The club—which began when a bell boy paged a Fred Smith in a hotel lobby and five people gathered—held its first annual dinner last night.

Fred (advertising) Smith opened the ceremonies by putting the skeleton of Fred (advertising) Smith together. Fred (advertising) Smith had a bit of trouble and finally called.

"Is there a Dr. Fred Smith in the house?"

He finally pieced the skeleton together and Fred (brass) Smith, Fred (Sky Pilot) Smith, Fred (counselor) Smith and Fred (World's Fair 1939) Smith posed with the skeleton.

Smith Frederick came late. Because of the inversion of his name, he had to walk in backward. But Smith Frederick took it in good spirit.

"At least," he said, "no Smythe got in."

PERSONNEL OF PWA REDUCED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Secretary of Interior Harold L. Ickes, today announced a 20 per cent cut in the administrative personnel of the Public Works Administration.

Discharge notices were sent to 2000 PWA staff members throughout the country, reducing the administrative personnel from approximately 10,000 to about 8000.

The order becomes effective January 31. Many of those sent home, it was explained, already have been laid off without pay. These were "separated from the payroll without prejudice."

The reduction was ordered, it was explained, because PWA is completing projects more rapidly than it is starting new ones. In the past six months PWA has completed 2553 projects at an estimated cost of $295,584,487.

The PWA still has $290,000,000 of emergency relief funds which have not been allotted. This will be used to begin new projects between now and July 1, the end of this fiscal year.

ANN HARDING TO MARRY MUSICIAN

LONDON, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Ann Harding, American actress, whose spectacular court fight for custody of her eight-year-old daughter at the time of her divorce from Harry Bannister caused nationwide interest in the United States, is to be married to Werner Janssen, distinguished symphonic conductor, it was revealed today.

Notice of the intention to marry was filed at Caxton hall register office.

Janssen's age was given as 35 and Miss Harding's as 34. Janssen listed himself as having been divorced from Elsa Janssen, nee Smith.

Miss Harding, who is appearing at Blackpool in a stage production of Shaw's "Candida," said: "I want to get on with my work and do not wish to discuss my private affairs."

"This leaked out in New York," had hoped to keep it quiet until after my stage appearance. Now the day will have to be altered. I cannot bear a whole mob of people worrying me about my private affairs."

GOVERNOR MARLAND RECEIVES THREAT

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Gov. E. W. Marland has received a letter demanding $5,000 on threat of bodily harm to him and Mrs. Marland, he said today. He posted a $500 reward for arrest of the sender.

Marland tendered the letter over to state crime bureau operatives. Although not unduly alarmed, the governor was angered.

Department of justice operatives were called in by the state operatives. Marland planned to reinforce the one executive mansion night watchman.

INJURIES IN TWINE PLANT PROVE FATAL

Donald Schurr Dies After Body Caught in Moving
Machinery at Stanton

Knocked unconscious and horribly mangled when he was jerked into a moving card machine at the California Cordage company factory at Stanton yesterday, Donald Richard Schurr, 28-year-old Garden Grove man, died last evening at St. Joseph hospital from fractures and loss of blood. It was necessary for surgeons to amputate Schurr's right arm.

Cleaning Card Machine

According to Secretary Fred Alden of the cordage concern, manufacturers of twine and oakum, Schurr was cleaning the card machine while it was in operation. The sudden jerk of the machinery cogs hurled Schurr's head against a piece of the steel apparatus and he was knocked unconscious. The machinery then mangled his right arm and right side.

A call to Dr. Arthur Robbins, company doctor, of Garden Grove, brought the physician to the scene in eight minutes but it required a half hour before Schurr could be extricated from the machine, authorities declared.

Inquest Pending

Schurr lived at the southwest corner of Lamson and Magnolia avenues, Garden Grove. Following Schurr's death his body was removed to the Brown and Wagner funeral home here, where Coroner Earl Abbey will conduct an inquest, now pending.

A native son of California, he had lived in Orange county 25 years, nearly all of his life in Garden Grove. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mina Schurr; two daughters, Lesandra and Donna Schurr; his father, P. N. Schurr, of Mobile, Ala.; one brother, Robert Schurr, of Glendale; one sister, Mrs. Doris Marston, of Buena Park, and his grandmother, Mrs. Ella Appar, of Artesia.

EXPRESS FEAR FOR CCC PARTY

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Jan. 16.—(UP)—Ominous silence today hid progress of CCC crews returning through deep snowdrifts with four persons rescued from their snowbound mining shack at Kelly mine, 90 miles northeast of Las Vegas.

A blizzard that materially slowed advance of the rescuers after they picked up four refugees and the body of a fifth member of the stranded Prettyman party abated early today.

Bitter cold and winds that drifted the snow into depths exceeding eight feet, however, followed the storm. Fear was held for the condition of three persons among the refugees known to be seriously ill. The entire group was forced to spend the night in the open.

It was not known which member of the rescued party was dead. Mrs. Lee Prettyman, wife of the operator of the Nevada Maryland mine, was believed to be the only member of the party not stricken by illness resulting from continued exposure in zero temperatures.

Other members of the party were Doris Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. James Poe, and Fred Muller.

CALL HEARING ON MARITIME STRIKE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(UP)—The National Labor Relations board today announced a hearing on January 22 to determine whether it has jurisdiction in the maritime strike in eastern and Gulf ports.

Writer, HEIRESS WED

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 16.—(UP)—Howard Dietz, nationally known song writer, and Mrs. Tanis Guinness Montague, English heiress, were married in Juarez today immediately after arriving by plane from New York. The couple planned to return to New York by plane this afternoon.

WHEN LOVE WAS IN BLOOM

The romance of John Barrymore, 55-year-old film actor, and Elaine Barrie Barrymore is definitely over. She filed suit for divorce in Los Angeles yesterday charging mental and physical cruelty. The marriage lasted exactly one month and 23 days.

$390,454 PAID FRUIT GROWERS

Figures released by A. A. Adams, manager, to stockholders of the Yorba Linda Citrus association at the annual meeting today at the Masonic hall revealed that receipts for citrus fruit totaled $390,454.64 for the fiscal year of 1935-36.

This indicated the association had had returns per box equalled only in the peak years of 1928-29 and 1929-30. The average per box for lemons for the fiscal year was $1.12, and for oranges was $1.12.

Breaking down the total figure, the returns for lemons for this past year were $284,166.75 and for oranges, $106,287.89.

A total of 153,945 field boxes of lemons and 94,301 field boxes of oranges were picked, while 213 cars of lemons and 109 cars of oranges were shipped.

Reviewing the figures of the association since organization in 1919, it was shown that during the years Yorba Linda citrus growers have picked a total of 3,598,241 field boxes of lemons and 1,625,057 boxes of oranges, while returns from all citrus for those years totaled $6,148,475.96. Nearly 6000 cars have been shipped.

The annual turkey dinner was served at the Masonic hall and clubhouse by women of the Friends club.

Speakers of the day were H. W. Hall, manager of the Exchange Products plant at Corona, who talked on "Juice Canning Situation As It Relates to Fruit Marketing." He suggested that properly managed, the juice marketing could be an asset to the growers and their incomes.

George Crawford, manager of the Northern Orange County Citrus exchange, affiliated with the California Fruit Growers' exchange, through which the Yorba Linda house markets its fruit, discussed the business of the past year, and said that with proper co-operation and control, good returns may be expected this season.

AD IN NEWSPAPER NEW CLUE TO CLARK

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16.—(UP)—A 9-word ad appearing in the personal columns of a Los Angeles newspaper gave police a possible new clue today in their search for Dave Clark, affluent young attorney, who disappeared after supposedly boarding a San Francisco bound train.

The notice read:

"Dave—Received yesterday. Good care of health. Love, Nancy P."

The missing attorney's wife is Mrs. Nancy Clark.

The advertisement was said to have been inserted by a man who gave a fictitious Inglewood address.

ASK $150,000,000 ON ARMY PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Congress will be asked to approve a $150,000,000 army housing program—biggest since the World War—to improve the military morale, it was learned today.

Rep. Lister Hill, D. Ala., new chairman of the house military affairs committee, said the war department, now preparing the bill, would have it ready probably by next week for introduction and that it would be sped through his committee.

Hill just completed an 8,000-mile air inspection tour of 35 military posts and reservations scattered throughout the nation.

"Conditions were deplorable," he said. "We must do something immediately. Adequate housing and other facilities are just as important to the army's morale as pay and promotion matters."

It is understood the huge program, in a staggered plan, will be carried out as a public works project and will include posts in this country, Hawaii and Panama. It will embrace new construction and modernization of barracks, officers' quarters and utilities.

Fire Alarm Interrupts Chiefs Here

Screaming sirens almost disrupted the opening session of the 21st semi-annual convention of the Southern California Fire Chiefs' club here this morning—that is, insofar as Chief John Luxembourger, of Santa Ana, was concerned.

In the middle of one of the main speeches, an alarm was sounded at city hall at 11:11 a. m.

"There were plenty of ears wiggling," declared one of the fire fighters. And Chief Luxembourger grabbed his hat and left the council chamber. He returned a short time later after a minor blaze at 107 South Main street was extinguished.

Judge Faces Court Trial On License

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(UP)—The department of agriculture today considered possible action against Supreme Court Justice Willis Van Devanter, who went duck shooting without the required $1 federal revenue stamp attached to his hunter's license.

Appropriate Action Due

The 77-year-old jurist's case has been given to Solicitor General J. P. Winchell of the department of agriculture for "appropriate action," it was learned.

Van Devanter went hunting early in December with his old shooting crony, the Rev. Dr. Zebarny Phillips, chaplain of the senate. While they were in a duck blind near Occoquan, Va., 35 miles from Washington, Deputy Game Warden George King and a Virginia state deputy state warden asked Van Devanter and Phillips to show their licenses.

Phillips had the required $1 federal stamp but Justice Van Devanter had none. The justice pleaded "ignorance of the law."

Joked About Notice

The warden, however, in the routine performance of his duties notified the biological survey of the department of agriculture of the alleged violation. The notice lay neglected on a minor clerk's desk for weeks while officials joked about it.

But sportsmen began a flood of complaints against inaction in the case. Several magazines catering to sportsmen took up the chorus. Last week these protests brought action.

CAR STRIKERS LEAVE FACTORY

DETROIT, Jan. 16.—(UP)—With banners flying and a brass band playing, 42 singing sit-down strikers marched out of the Fleetwood body plant today, ending their five day demonstration.

The procession was led by Hamer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers, who removed the men as part of his bargain with General Motors so negotiations may begin Monday on the strike.

General Motors today challenged the Committee for Industrial Organization on the issue of the latter's demand for "exclusive" bargaining rights.

General Motors made public an exchange of telegrams between William S. Knudson, executive vice president of the corporation, and George E. Boysen, head of the Flint alliance in which he pledged:

"General Motors will never tolerate the domination of its employees by a small minority."

One of the chief threats to peaceful negotiation of the General Motors strike was removed today when Joseph R. Joseph, Flint prosecutor, withdrew 300 warrants charging kidnapping issued against members of the United Automobile Workers.

ARRANGE 3 SHIP STRIKE MEETINGS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Three of seven striking unions in the Pacific coast maritime federation scheduled new negotiations today in an effort to bring peace to strike-bound waterfronts extending from Seattle to San Diego.

These moves came as Mayor Angelo J. Rossi, of San Francisco, sent a wire to the National Labor board in Washington, D. C.

"Please be assured that efforts expended in an attempt to equitably and amicably adjust matters will meet with almost universal endorsement," Mayor Rossi said in part.

Meanwhile, major interest in strike negotiations locally centered around reports that shipowners were considering compromise strike proposals made originally by the Longshoremen's union on October 7.

The radio operators had another conference scheduled today. The third union group planning negotiations was the Marine Cooks and Stewards' association, which is asking an eight-hour work day in 13 hours.

SCHOOL BOY KILLED

MARTINEZ, Cal., Jan. 16.—(UP)—A Richmond, Cal., high school boy was killed and two others were injured today in an auto accident reportedly caused when the driver of the car went to sleep at the wheel.

CONFERENCE IS HELD BY LEGISLATORS

Committee of Seven Will Be Appointed to Steer
Measure in Congress

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend told a meeting of congressmen today that petitions containing 20,000,000 signatures would be presented to congress in behalf of $200 a month old age pension legislation.

Discuss Welfare Bill

Meeting with a dozen representatives in the big senate caucus room, the California physician and his congressional supporters talked over plans to introduce a "general welfare bill" in congress and decided to name a committee of seven members to steer it toward passage.

"Petitions will soon be ready with the names of 20,000,000 persons on them expressing support of the old age pension plan," Townsend told the meeting. "It demonstrates the intense interest of the nation in rational, intelligent legislation to solve our modern social problems."

Rep. Charles N. Crosby, D. Pa., presided at the meeting and was instructed to appoint the steering committee after consultation with Townsend and others.

Difficulties Cited

Rep. William Lemke, R., N. D., warned the meeting of the difficulties of getting legislation to the floor under the gag rule instituted by the Democratic leadership and Rep. Charles Kramer, D. Cal., urged the Townsend supporters to try to compromise on a measure that would have the best chance of passing.

Townsend is scheduled to face contempt charges in District of Columbia court February 8 for refusing last session to testify before a House investigating committee. He indicated today he will continue his defiance.

"If I am in contempt of the committee I intend to stay that way. I have nothing but contempt for the house committee."

FRESH TROOPS SENT TO SPAIN

LONDON, Jan. 16.—(UP)—The British government received authoritative information today of fresh arrivals of Italian recruits in Spain to reinforce the insurgents and a further influx of French recruits through Barcelona to aid the loyalists within the past week.

Competent British quarters place the number of foreign troops helping the insurgents at between 15,000 and 20,000 Italians and 10,000 to 12,000 Germans.

It was understood the British naval officers who at the invitation of Spanish Moroccan authorities arrived at Ceuta this week sent a preliminary report to the admiralty which tends to confirm the impression here that no German troops are stationed in Morocco.

German activities there are believed to be limited largely to engineers and technicians, who, besides helping to work iron mines, also have advised and helped in connection with improvement of the Ceuta fortifications.

The Manchester Guardian reported 2000 men of the German S.S. "Elite" semi-military corps, have been assembled at Munich ready to go to Spain.

$2,300,000 SPENT ADVERTISING FRUIT

SAN JOSE, Cal., Jan. 16.—(UP)—A total of $2,300,000 was spent last year advertising the wares of 10 producer co-operatives which market most of California's citrus and deciduous fruits, nuts, dried fruits and other leading specialty crops, general manager Paul S. Armstrong of the California Fruit Growers exchange informed the California Newspaper Publishers' association annual meeting here today.

Armstrong said his exchange spent $1,500,000 of the amount in advertising oranges, lemons and grapefruit throughout the world.

Although most consumer advertising is done outside areas of production, some of the co-operatives have found local newspapers "very useful for institutional or membership advertising," the speaker said. The exchange, he added, has used citrus belt daily and weekly papers for years with this in mind and has prepared another campaign for 1937.

TEST CLOTHING IN KIDNAP CASE

ers up and down the Pacific coast, an Everett woman, an employee of a doctor's office, said some bedding had been stolen from her cottage on the road on which the boy's body was found.

Chief William H. Cole of the Washington State police questioned one suspect whose identity was not revealed and issued orders to bring in another man. The suspect was said to be the son of a prominent Everett physician, who frequently indulges in a curious desire to dissect animals, according to officers.

While police searched every house and other building in the vicinity of Everett—where all phases of the crime are believed to have taken place—federal agents released a woman questioned at Bellingham. Investigators said she had no connection with the case, but merely was a friend of Lee Haskell Fowler, 36, who was sentenced to 20 years in the Washington state penitentiary Tuesday for robbing the Albers Milling company plant at Bellingham.

Fowler questioned. She was taken into custody after she visited Fowler in the county jail following his conviction. Fowler was held in solitary confinement and officers continued to question him in an effort to break down his insistence that he knew nothing about the Mattson case.

Fred Orrin Haynes, California ex-convict said to have rented a cottage not far from the field where Charles' body was found, still was held for investigation following his voluntary surrender to police for questioning.

This Is Where Bob's 'Tail' Becomes a Laundry 'Tale'

Long ago Bob, an eleven year old collie, had learned to avoid automobiles, steam rollers, poisoned dog biscuits, etc. But until yesterday nobody had counseled him against washing machines. As a result Bob sits at his home with an aggrieved look on his aristocratic face, nursing a broken, bandaged "tail". Two radio policemen were needed to extricate Bob's tail from the drive shaft of his owner's washing machine, and now we come to the gist of our "tale".

It's lucky the human has evolved from their simian ancestors, otherwise many of them would be in Bob's predicament, but we still have hands and fingers and some have long hair; therefore beware of the home washing machine, and instead send your washing to the SANITARY LAUNDRY WHERE IT IS DONE BETTER, MORE SANITARY AND NO TROUBLE TO YOU.

and have our driver call for your next washing.

ing force, headed by Chief John Luxembourg, who spoke briefly and introduced a large number of his special guests.

Outstanding speeches on the first part of the one-day session were presented by H. C. Carrel, former professor of medical science at the University of Minnesota, of Redondo Beach; David H. Merrill, secretary-manager of the Pacific Coast Uniform Building Code Association, and Chief Frank Scovel, of the state fire marshal's office.

Tells Effect of Burns. Carrel presented a scholarly and highly enlightening paper on the treatment of burns. He set forth the effect of burns on the human body, and clearly described the difference between antiseptic and germicidal medication.

Merrill stressed the importance of building codes in the field of elimination of dangerous fire hazards. He also explained the close relationship between the work of the fire chiefs and that of men who draft or enact building codes. Chief Scovel vividly described the dangers of "Home Dry Cleaning," the topic of his discussion, and emphatically warned against the promiscuous use of inflammables in the home.

Guests Introduced. Guests introduced to the gathering by Chief Luxembourg included W. C. Young, former Santa Ana fire chief; George Peters, one-time secretary of the volunteer association; Chief Ed Mosbaugh, of Riverside; City Councilman Joe Smith; Judge J. G. The conclave will close with a banquet at 6:30 o'clock tonight at the American Legion hall and followed directly by a dance.

QUESTION PILOT ON CRASH MONDAY

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16.—(UP)—The condition of Pilot W. W. Lewis today prevented his being questioned until Monday in the crash of a Western Air Express transport last Tuesday which took two lives and injured 11 others.

Major R. W. Schroeder, chief of the department of commerce air inspectors, visited the snow-capped peak on which the plane crashed, 25 miles from here. He had no comment to make although he examined the wreckage closely.

Survivors of the crash, which took the lives of Explorer Martin Johnson and James A. Braden, of Cleveland, all were reported responding to treatment.

Johnson's wife, Mrs. Osa Johnson, was said to be much improved. Still in serious condition were Earl E. Spencer, of Chicago, and R. T. Andersen, of Buellton, Cal., and Atlantic City, but both were expected to survive.

S. F. FIRE CAUSES $500,000 DAMAGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—(UP)—A four-alarm fire which swept through the entire basement of a three-story building caused approximately $500,000, firemen estimated today.

The fire smoldered for several hours below a large jewelry store, a grocery store and a shoe store before it was brought under control.

Patrons of a nearby theater left the building upon orders of firemen who feared the blaze would spread throughout the block.

RIFLE CLUB WILL HOLD SHOOT SUNDAY

The muzzle-loaders of Orange county and other points in Southern California will "do battle" with members of the Santiago Rifle and Revolver club, modern-rifle "ad-dicts," tomorrow afternoon at the Santiago range, beginning at 1 o'clock.

The competition, outgrowth of a challenge hurled by the muzzle-loaders some weeks ago, includes three types of shooting, at 100 yards—with any type of metallic sights; with telescopic sights, and "off-hand" (without a rest for their weapons), with metallic sights. The public is invited to witness the matches.

KEN Murray SAYS:

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—Old Mother Nature certainly has been putting on a stupendous, colossal, super-production out in Southern California where, for the first time in years, they have been having severe snow storms. I understand the ice was so slippery that anyone would think the movie-clothes was going in for sit-down-strikes.

Picture stars are said to be more worried about over exposure than at any time since diaries went out of fashion.

Naturally the natives of Hollywood couldn't be sure whether the snow was real, or whether Paramount was merely trying to remake "Byrd at the South Pole."

It is also reported that this is the first time there has been any frostbite in this section of the country in a coon's age....Of course, this doesn't include the number of people frozen to death in movie houses every summer.

All in all, with so much ice around, the traffic is bound to be very dangerous in Hollywood....Even when the weather's fair, those movie stars are always skidding into churches.

FOUR PERSONS ARE HURT IN AUTO MISHAPS

Two traffic accidents in which four persons were injured, were reported to California highway patrol officers, last night and this morning, both accidents assertedly involving drunk driving.

Emilio Magdeleno, 51, of Tustin, was in county hospital today with a broken nose, cuts and bruises about the face and head, following an accident about 6 a. m. today on Huntington Beach boulevard about a mile south of Oceanview, where after assertedly weaving his car about the highway and losing control of it, it catapulted 150 feet into a plowed field and came to rest upright after turning over.

Two other men, who, witnesses reported, were riding with Magdeleno, were less severely injured, jumped from the car and disappeared. Witnesses said Magdeleno assertedly was driving drunk but in absence of those who actually saw him driving, Officer Horace Inge placed a charge of intoxication only, against him.

About 5:30 o'clock last night, at 22nd street and Newport boulevard, Costa Mesa, 13-year-old Joe Kojali of Costa Mesa, was riding his bicycle when struck down by a car driven by Allen Gilbert Maxwell, 23, of 520 North Birch street, Santa Ana. Highway Patrol officers Ben Craig and Harry Aldrich, who investigated, jailed Maxwell on a drunk driving charge.

Young Kojali was in county hospital today suffering from deep laceration of the head, a laceration seven inches long, and a severely cut foot.

VIRGIL SPARKS IS ORDERED TO PRISON

Virgil Sparks, of Garden Grove, former sales representative of the Langley Oil company, was sentenced to San Quentin on two counts of grand theft of company funds, when Superior Judge James L. Allen late yesterday denied his plea for probation.

The two sentences, each of from one to ten years, will run concurrently, the court ordered.

At yesterday's hearing, Sparks told of diverting his employer's funds to his own use, after getting into financial difficulties. A radio venture he undertook accounted for a party he gave at a certain local roadhouse. He also donated $50 to the Garden Grove Lions club, to aid a project that organization was promoting, he said.

Ralph Bridges pleaded guilty yesterday to theft of 130 pounds of avocados, worth $12, from the P. J. Weisel grove at La Habra. He asked probation, hearing being set for January 29.

At Dressing Table? No, Dining!

It's hard to tell, in these decollete days, just when the candid camera has gone formal and when it has invaded milady's dressing chamber. But this was no intrusion of privacy, just an intimate closeup of the charming Mrs. Jay F. Carlisle, Jr., the former Margaret Moffett, in a lovely evening gown at the table with a party of friends in the Patio, swank Palm Beach resort.

LOCAL CHURCH TO CELEBRATE 48TH BIRTHDAY

The morning service at the First Congregational church tomorrow will be an anniversary service, according to an announcement by the minister, the Rev. Perry F. Schrock. The church will be 48 years old tomorrow.

The church was officially organized and the first officers elected January 17, 1889. Of that list of first officers, only one is still living and a member of the church, Mr. A. J. Cruickshank was elected to the office of church clerk. His father, the late M. M. Cruickshank, was elected treasurer and member of the board of trustees.

The Rev. Mr. Schrock will preach an anniversary sermon tomorrow on the theme, "Who Follows In Their Theme?"

Police News

City police today were hunting for a blue and white, silver-trimmed Traveler bicycle belonging to Robert O'Conner, 1042 West Camille, who he reported stolen from the home garage last night. He said the bicycle was worth $20.

Assertedly begging along the streets of Santa Ana and not even tap dancing for his "earnings," Douglas Long, 22-year-old Negro from Kentucky, who told police he is a professional tap dancer "but not quite as good as Bill Robinson," was arrested about 9:30 o'clock last night and jailed on a vagrancy charge by Officers F. L. Ground and C. V. Adams. The arrest was made at Fourth and Broadway. Facing City Judge J. G. Mitchell today, Long probably will be given a 10 day suspended jail term and sent on his way, to tap some more another day—but somewhere else, not Santa Ana.

City officers were unable to locate a man which a local woman reported had fallen to the ground on Flower street between Sixth and Eighth streets yesterday afternoon. He had disappeared.

Officers, informed that an intoxicated man was lying in the street on West Fifth, the 1200 or 1300 block, early this morning, investigated, but reported the man had apparently "got up and slowly walked away." They couldn't find him.

Some unidentified motorist is missing an automobile tire and rim today, according to report of Ted McIntire of Tustin. McIntire, last night, informed Officer Harry Prichard he was traveling on Main street near Fifth, about 8 o'clock, when a car traveling north on Main, dropped the tire and rim but he was unable to overtake and inform the motorist of the loss.

None were injured yesterday afternoon as cars driven by Mike Lopez, Norwalk, and Warren McElroy, 1907 West Fifth, Santa Ana, collided in front of the West Fifth street address. Officers W. H. Heard and Ed Lentz reported, after investigation. According to McElroy, he was traveling west on Fifth and attempting to make a right turn into his home driveway when Lopez tried to pass the McElroy car on the right. The cars were damaged.

The nine of diamonds is called "The Curse of Scotland" in that country.

JAYSEE JUNIOR FORUM CLASS HOLDS DEBATE

Members of the Junior Forum class at Santa Ana Junior college participated in a panel discussion concerning "Civil Liberties Under Various Forms of Governments," as presented by two students of International House at Berkeley.

The two students, Miss Ursula Shaffer, a German exchange student at the University of California, discussed the Nazi German regime; while Pier Passinetti, an Italian exchange student, spoke on the Fascist government in Italy.

Both the students agreed that the super-nationalism of the two respective countries was essential to the well-being of the people, and to the achieving of their set goal. Mr. Passinetti was the more vehement of the two students in defending the totalitarian state attitude.

Gerald White, leader for the panel, introduced the subject by discussing briefly the fundamentals of democracy. He made known that the purpose of the panel was to learn the various attitudes of the German and Italian governments from these two students.

Questions were asked by members of the class during the course of the discussions. Calvin C. Flint, dean of men, is the instructor for the class.

DEATH NOTICES

A WORD OF COMFORT

There are those who are able to understand his abiding love. Some others would like to get rid of him so that they might do as they please.

It is futile to fight against God; it is cruel to doubt and to leave Him. He loves you as no human parent could love, suffers when you suffer, grieves when you fail to try to be brave and true.

Through the shadows of pain and sorrow, reach out your hand, it will comfort and embolden you amid the darkness, you will learn to be brave and glad once more; as you draw nearer to Him, you will know yourself nearer to your beloved who is with Him.

PETERKINS TO APPEAL CASE TO HIGH COURT

Refusal of Superior Judge H. G. Ames late yesterday to grant a new trial of the will contest brought by the six children of the late W. H. Petrkin, of Orange, who disinherited his entire family in favor of more distant relatives, will be followed by an appeal of the case to higher courts, it was stated by Judge R. Y. Williams and Charles D. Swanner, counsel for the contestants.

At hearing of the will contest several weeks ago, Judge Ames granted a non-suit of the contest on motion of Attorney O. A. Jacobs, of Head, Wellington and Jacobs, counsel for N. T. Edwards and F. M. Gulick, Orange bankers who are executors of the estate.

The court at that time and again yesterday rejected the claim that deceased had been mentally incompetent to make a will. The evidence, said Judge Ames, showed that deceased had treated his wife and children with cruelty and indignity, but this did not show hallucinations or delusions, or any impairment of the deceased's ability to handle his property or make a will. Omission of the children from the will appeared to be due, the court indicated, to estrangement resulting from the father's treatment of them and their mother.

COUNTY FOREST LOSS BY FIRE SHOWS DECLINE

Orange county's fire losses in forest and farm were shaved one-third below the 1935 losses, dropping from $76,990 to $53,539, it was shown today in the annual report of Ranger Joe Scherman to the state division of forestry, and the county supervisors.

Protection furnished the rural and watershed areas of the county by the state forestry fire-prevention service saved double the property losses last year that was saved during 1935, Scherman estimated, the 1936 saving being $164,258 to $85,335 in 1935.

Reduced losses applied to acreage burned over, this being cut down from 2261 acres in 1935 to 287 in 1936; also to structural fires, hay fires, and improvements.

There were fewer range fires in 1936, but three more brush and watershed fires, these, however, aggregating only about one-fifth the extent of the 1935 fires, when one night of strong wind saw several fires sweep over more than 2000 acres. Only 97 acres of range and 190 acres of brush and watershed were burned over last year.

The state has fire trucks located at Orange (county headquarters), Midway City, San Juan Capistrano, Costa Mesa and Yorba Linda. In summer, equipment also is located in Aliso and Trabuco canyons.

Scherman's report reviewed 1936 development, including construction of six buildings, costing $50,000, at Orange headquarters; and 22 miles of private telephone lines, linking Trabuco lookout and ranger station with headquarters. Among the 1937 improvements will be buildings at San Juan Capistrano, rebuilding of Yorba Linda ranger station, and 12 miles additional telephone lines.

The fire damage was listed as follows:

Subject	1935	1936
Fire calls	133	137
Range, grass, and stubble fires	63	39
Acres burned over	1732	27
Estimated damage	$1893	$37

DECIDED UPTREND IN REALTY VALUES THROUGHOUT STATE PREDICTED AT BOARD MEETING

Prediction of a "tremendous uptrend of real estate values throughout California" and an emphatic plea to battle to continue the present state sales tax, were features yesterday afternoon of speeches of state real estate association officials who appeared on the installation program of the Santa Ana Realty board at the Green Cat cafe.

Earl B. Hawks, well-known Santa Ana broker, was inaugurated and installed as president of the local organization by J. Mortimer Clark, state real estate commissioner, of Sacramento, who administered the oath to all the officers.

Other officers installed were Marie J. Gethard, first vice president; A. H. Walsh, second vice president; Oliver Lindemeyer, secretary-treasurer; and W. F. Croddy, state director. The work was completed with impressive ceremony and also featured by the passing of the gavel from C. W. Hill, last year's local president, to Hawks.

Hawks Installed
Among those who spoke were Clark, John Weston, chairman of the appraisal division of the state real estate association, Hill, Hawks, Gethard and Croddy. Hill opened the meeting, which was attended by the majority of board members and many guests, and presided until Hawks was installed. "You may rest assured," declared Weston, "that there will be a rise of at least 13 per cent in rentals in the next year, and an increase of 40 per cent in values of well-located good real estate in the next 18 months." Weston, who paid a high tribute to the city of Santa Ana, was preceded on the speaking program by Clark.

Both of the state men forcefully demanded that the local organization use every bit of its strength and power to maintain the present state sales tax "in order that the burden of taxation on all real estate will not be increased."

Lauds Tax Setup
"You can't afford to overburden a community with which you deal," Weston asserted. "Don't permit any meddling with the present tax structure of the state, which has gone along nicely for at least 20 years. The state at the present time is in exceptionally good repute with out-of-state financial agencies, and this speaks well for the present tax set-up and general conditions."

"We have much to look forward to in the real estate business," Clark told the group. "The interests of the public are your interests in the final analysis," Clark continued, "and if you will always bear this in mind, you will be rewarded. This happens to be one of the biggest legislative years for our various organizations, and remember that it is with organization and cooperation that we may accomplish things. The state association is always on the alert, and right now is doing everything possible to prevent an unjust tax on real estate." Clark reviewed the work of the state real estate department, and declared that subdivision work now was featured by the fact that property is being sold for use and not speculation as had been the condition many times in the past.

Take Oath of Office
It was directly following his address that Clark requested that the new officers stand and take the oath of office. Hill then expressed appreciation for the help of committees and the organization itself in the last year, and presented the gavel to Hawks. Hawks then spoke briefly, and Mrs. Gethard presented a certificate of accomplishment to Hill as a token of the board's appreciation of his work.

Weston reviewed the work of the past president of the state association, saying that the membership of this group had been increased from 1,600 to 2,995 in the last year, and predicted that broker membership would be boosted to 3,500 in another year.

"There are many bills in the hopper at Sacramento," Weston warned, "that threaten the present tax structure. And if some of them pass, there is no doubt but that the burden on real estate will be increased to an unjust degree. "Real estate today bears about 80 per cent of the tax burden in the state. It would be too bad if that reached 100 per cent, and if we let the legislators legislate, it would be 105 per cent."

"There is going to be a tremendous uptrend in the prices of real estate. There will not be wild speculation or vacant land as there was in the 20's, but improved property is due for a big rise. There will be no slipping, and if

EVANGELIST TO BEGIN SECOND WEEK SUNDAY

Attracting large crowds at every service, Boone L. Douthitt, evangelist from Louisville, Ky., begins Sunday the second week of his series of gospel sermons at the Church of Christ, Broadway and Walnut street, according to James H. Sewell, minister of the church.

I. E. Robertson of Los Angeles will bring his mixed chorus of singers to the afternoon service Sunday. They will present a program of songs, augmented by the Robertson brothers male quartet.

In an address this week Mr. Douthitt spoke on the topic, "What Will You Do With Jesus Who is Called the Christ?" He said, in part: "Various groups around the cross answered the question on the day of Jesus' crucifixion. Pilate, the first to consider the query, 'What will you do with Jesus who is called the Christ?' attempted to be neutral, but failed in the attempt. May I suggest to you that no one has ever succeeded in being neutral in the matter of serving Christ. Some try it, but of course they cannot succeed, for 'he that is not with me is against me.'"

"The Jews condemned Him and said 'Crucify Him! Let His blood be upon us and upon our children.' They did not realize the enormity of their action, nor do others today who 'crucify the Son of God afresh and put Him to an open shame.'"

Peter, the apostle, denied the Lord, when asked if he was not associated with Jesus. But we should not condemn Peter too harshly, when we ourselves may be denying Christ in many ways, by refusing to serve Him, by failing to live exemplary lives, or disowning Him when faced by scornful companions.

"When Judas Iscariot considered this question, he sold his Lord for 30 pieces of silver. This seems a trifling amount for which to sell the Son of God, but there are those today who are willing to sell Him for things no more worth while than the fourteen or fifteen dollars represented by those 30 pieces of silver."

"Finally, Jesus, seeing the great numbers of disciples leaving Him, turned to the twelve and said, 'Will ye also go away?' Peter replied, 'Lord, to whom shall we go?' if we forsake Jesus today, where can we find the helplessness, consolation and blessedness that we have in Christ?"

BUFFALO HERD THRIVES
CEDAR FALLS, Ia. (UP)—Dr. E. J. Thierman last fall purchased a small herd of buffalo in Nebraska as a reminder to Iowans of the pioneer era. The herd has begun to pay dividends. A calf was recently born to one of the cows in the herd.

Wants 'Security' in 17-Cent Lump

Lump sum payment of 17 cents under the old age benefit section of the Social Security Act has been asked by Ernest Ackerman, above, for 33 years a Cleveland street car motorman. Ackerman, 65 years old on Jan. 2, had worked only New Year's Day under provisions of the act, but, on his wage of $4.96, he applied for the 3 1/2 per cent share fixed by the law, amounting to 17 cents. Deduction of the federal 5-cent tax would leave Ackerman a net profit of 12 cents.

Just in case a lot of young HI-LI experts have overlooked entering the contest so far, officials recommended the announcement today that it still is not too late to get in on the big affair, which is being sponsored by The Register and Walker's theater at Third and Bush streets.

Nearly 100 boys and girls were on hand Friday afternoon at Third and Bush for the last session in the second week of the four-week competition.

Rodney Shook, 411 Wakeham street, and Harold Witt, 114 West 18th street, took honors hands down (and HI-LI paddles up) in Friday's strenuous contest. Some time this afternoon, these two boys will battle with four winners from Monday's and Wednesday's sessions, on the stage of Walker's theater. This will be the semi-finals for this week.

All six of the contestants will be the guests of Victor E. Walker, manager of the theater at Third and Bush, it was pointed out by R. M. Conklin, circulation manager of The Register, this morning.

Both Conklin and Walker were enthusiastic over the way things are going, and explained that one of today's winners will enter the finals at the end of the contest—two more weeks.

Whoever wins on the stage today will be with Richard Allen, 614 South Flower street, and two other weekly winners yet to be named in the next two weeks' contests in the finals.

Don't forget to be there Monday! The time is 4 o'clock—free candy, and a chance to win one of the big prizes!

FUR FARMERS IN U. S. STAND 1ST IN WORLD

NEW YORK (UP)—Fur farming has become a permanent part of this nation's agricultural development and farmers soon may produce a "streamlined" silver fox to cope with fashion trends, according to Frank G. Ashbrook, chief of the Fur Resources division of the U. S. department of agriculture.

Discussing the silver fox situation at a conference sponsored by the New York Auction company and Milligan and Morrison Fox Producers' association, Ashbrook disclosed that the fur markets of the world handled more silver fox pelts last season than in any previous year.

Spreads to Latin America
"Fox farming," he said, "is no longer confined to the Canadian provinces of Prince Edward island or the state of Maine, but has spread over the entire North American continent, parts of South America, Europe and the Orient."

"Silver fox production in the United States as compared with foreign countries shows that Canada and the United States are producing annually close to 400,000 pelts; Norway, Sweden, Netherlands, Denmark, Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, Germany, England, France, Switzerland, Japan and South America together produce about 650,000 pelts. The fur farmers of our country are now producing annually 20 per cent of the total raw fur supply."

Darker Pelts Not Wanted
Ashbrook said the most difficult problem confronting the farmer was that of disposing of darker pelts at a profit. He suggested that fur traders cooperate with farmers in developing a market for the darker pelts.

"Some style will have to be created and the same kind of propaganda, namely national advertising, which has made the light silver pelts most popular can be resorted to in developing the darker shades."

"It is not entirely impossible that the fox farmers will produce a streamlined silver fox to cope with fashion demands. When the basic principles of breeding involved in silver fox production are thoroughly understood by the breeders anything will be possible."

LAND RUSH ORGANIZED
SYDNEY, (UP)—Australia is preparing for a renewal of some of the old time thrills of "land rush" days. One hundred thousand acres are to be thrown open for sheep grazing lands in lots of 1500 to 2000 acres for those who get there first.

Plea That Failed to Save Killer

Demonstrating to the very last the mother's faith in her son, whatever the world might think of him, Mrs. Sadie Bologna makes a futile plea by radio in New York to arouse popular demand for the reprieve of her "good boy" son, Joseph, condemned as trigger man in a hold-up killing. Her efforts unavailing, he died in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison though four companions were spared.

STRIKERS ENJOY SIESTA

Strikers at the Standard Cotton Co., in Flint, Mich., were luckier than some of their comrades in other General Motors auto strikes. After a long day on the "sitdown" picket line, the Standard workers could go to bed on comfortable mattresses, available right in the plant from the cotton normally used as stuffing in some General Motors cars. This photo shows two of the strikers enjoying a siesta.

London Starts Year With a Sweep

If a chimney sweep is the first person to cross the threshold of the London lord mayor's home at midnight as the New Year Comes in, good luck will follow, according to an old English tradition. That's why the grimy sweep at left, bundling his equipment with him, brought cheer to the guests of Lord Mayor Sir George Broadbridge, as they welcomed 1937 with an old-fashioned house party.

News Behind The News

By Paul Mallon

SILENT WORKER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The invincible man in the auto strike assembly line seems to be none other than the bulky President Roosevelt himself. If he has not been boring a quiet hole or two in the chassis of Messrs. Lewis and Sloan, it must have been a federal sheet acting for him. His sit-down posture has belied hints that he has been active, but some of the recent strike news bears a familiar presidential touch.

TIPS

For instance, the flat glass workers indicated a few days ago that they were ready for a settlement. It appeared to many an observer around here that they had toned down their demands considerably. At the same time, Mr. John Lewis, the right arm, which goes by the name of Philip Murray, began moving as if to take hold of that glass situation and clean it up peacefully forthwith.

The official inside story around labor headquarters was that Mr. Lewis wanted the glass strike stopped because it was hurting Ford and Chrysler, whereas he wanted to injure their competitor, General Motors.

It is more than a substantial guess, however, that Mr. Lewis was informed he had better not let his strike become general in the automobile industry, or else the federal government would have to step in. As long as the strike affected General Motors only, all the New Dealers seemed to be content to let Michigan's governor Murphy handle it. Somehow they cannot get excited about the sufferings of the DuPonts. That is a state matter. But the broader aspects of the flat glass strike was something else again.

If Mr. Lewis did not get this information from an unimpeachable authority about two blocks south of his headquarters here, it was nevertheless very, very authentic.

SOCIETY

Nothing ever came out about the one-hour visit of Myron Taylor to the presidential office. It was described as purely a social call, but skeptics are inclined to doubt that the president and the chairman of U. S. Steel have enough in common socially to talk for an hour. At least, not without discussing the one subject uppermost in their minds, namely the Lewis drive to organize steel, as well as motors.

Whereas Mr. Roosevelt knows the DuPonts only by hearsay from his son, Mr. Taylor is said to be his best financial friend. If Mr. Roosevelt wanted to send them a message, he could find no one with a better knowledge of the road to Garcia.

In more than one well informed quarter it is accepted as a fact that Mr. Taylor's message contained advice against a prolonged dispute. It is said to have been an important development leading up to the Murphy peace conference of employers and employees.

BACKGROUND

No weak spots have been outwardly noticeable in the morale around C. I. O. headquarters here, but, on the inside of labor circles close to Lewis, there has been a feeling since early this week that a settlement of the General Motors dispute was in order.

Mr. Lewis seemed to his friends to be sure of congressional help and sure of his leaders, but not entirely sure of everything.

Some impartial observers out on the scene simultaneously reached the conclusion that the well-organized publicity campaign of the employers about a large number of their men wanting to work was not all propaganda.

Also, many a devoted labor authority began to wonder about the possibility of Messrs. Lewis and Green getting so completely involved on opposite sides of the controversy as to set them both back permanently.

NEW CABINETEERS

Labor Secretary Perkins has been receiving exclusive mention in the press for that new cabinet job as head of the department of social service. The best bet for it, however, is Chairman John Winant of the Social Security board. Around the White House he is just about tops in that line.

The other job, as head of the new department of public works, may or may not go to Harry Hopkins, the WPA administrator. They say he will be offered the post, or something equal to it, but may not accept.

Of one thing you may be sure. Mr. Roosevelt will not let Hopkins go out as Prof. Tugwell did. If Hopkins goes, it will be because he insists.

REORGANIZATION

The president's congressional arrangements expected a critical reaction to his reorganization plan, but not quite as bad as it received. The realization that the best part of it will not be passed by congress is said to have reached even the top. Consequently, you may shortly see a change of strategy in the handling of it.

A move may be made in congress to authorize the president to carry out a part of it by executive order. If this is done, it will be only the undisputed part, creating the two new federal departments, and perhaps a few other minor things.

Oxford Honor In Class Test To Page Scion

OXFORD, England (UP)—Henry A. Page of Asheville, N. C., great-nephew of the late Walter Hines Page, war-time ambassador to Great Britain, is adding distinction to a name already well-known in England. It has just been announced by the governing body of Christ Church College, Oxford, where Page is a Rhodes Scholar, that he had been awarded the Boulter Exhibition in Philosophy, Politics and Economics, carrying with it a prize of $200.

The award is given for the highest marks in the practice examinations which are taken annually by the 25 or 30 undergraduates of Christ Church who are studying for the Bachelor of Arts degree in "Modern Greats," the Oxford term for the course in philosophy, politics and economics. The Boulter Exhibition was won last year by another Rhodes Scholar, H. G. Skilling of Toronto.

Page was graduated from Princeton University in 1935, and is now in the second year of his Rhodes scholarship.

SOVIET BOOSTS OUTPUT OF GOLD

JOHANNESBURG (UP)—A warning that South Africa's gold mines were a wasting asset, and that the Soviet Union may oust it from the position as the leading gold producer, was sounded by Prof. E. D. Mountain in his presidential address to the Science conference here.

"It should not be overlooked that all mineral reserves are wasting assets as contrasted with the products of the farming community," he said. "Although South Africa's gold ores are of a somewhat unique type, the life of gold mines elsewhere has been of a very ephemeral nature."

Mineral products comprised 75 per cent of South Africa's exports, and gold formed the bulk of these products. The high price of gold enabled the Union to put up records for the value of gold produced, and had enabled low-grade ore to be raised on a paying basis. The tonnage of ore raised was increased at the expense of the annual production of metal, he said.

"We find South Africa's percentage to the world production of gold rapidly dwindling from 51 per cent in 1930 to 25 per cent in 1935," Mountain added. "This is due to the general expansion of the gold-mining industry throughout the world, but in particular to the phenomenal increase from 1,400,000 ounces in 1930 to 5,700,000 ounces in 1935 in the Soviet Union. At this rate, the Soviet Union is well on its way to becoming the leading producer of gold."

The South African government is paying increasing attention to developing the base mineral resources of the country.

College Votes 1936 Medal To Church Editor

ST. BONAVENTURE, N. Y. — (UP)—Patrick F. Scanlon, managing editor of the Brooklyn Tablet, official organ of the diocese of Brooklyn, will receive the Catholic Action Medal for 1936 awarded each year by St. Bonaventure College to the Catholic layman who has distinguished himself in the field of Catholic action.

Scanlon is a director of the League of Decency and past president of the Catholic Press association.

In previous years the medal has been awarded to former Gov. Alfred E. Smith, Michael Williams, editor of the Commonwealth, a Catholic magazine, and Joseph Scott, Pacific Coast attorney.

Find Earth Beds In North Dakota

GRAND FORKS, N. D. (UP)—North Dakota has discovered a new mineral resource — high grade bleaching clay, commonly known as Fuller's earth.

William Budge, professor of ceramic engineering at the University of North Dakota, surveyed the deposits. He found a 10 foot bed of the clay in the Pembina mountain regions near the town of Mountain. He estimated that the deposit extends for more than 25 miles into the province of Manitoba.

The clay is used extensively for reclamation of motor oil and for purification of animal and vegetable oils.

Budge estimates the new clay resource is worth $8 a ton. He said approximately five million tons of the mineral are available on one 200 acre plot near Mountain.

Year's Chick Crop Near 700 Million

NEW YORK (UP)—The total production of poultry farms this year is estimated at nearly 700,000,000 chickens, valued at about $250,000,000. The normal chicken crop is believed to make it possible for the average family to eat more than 30 chickens during the year.

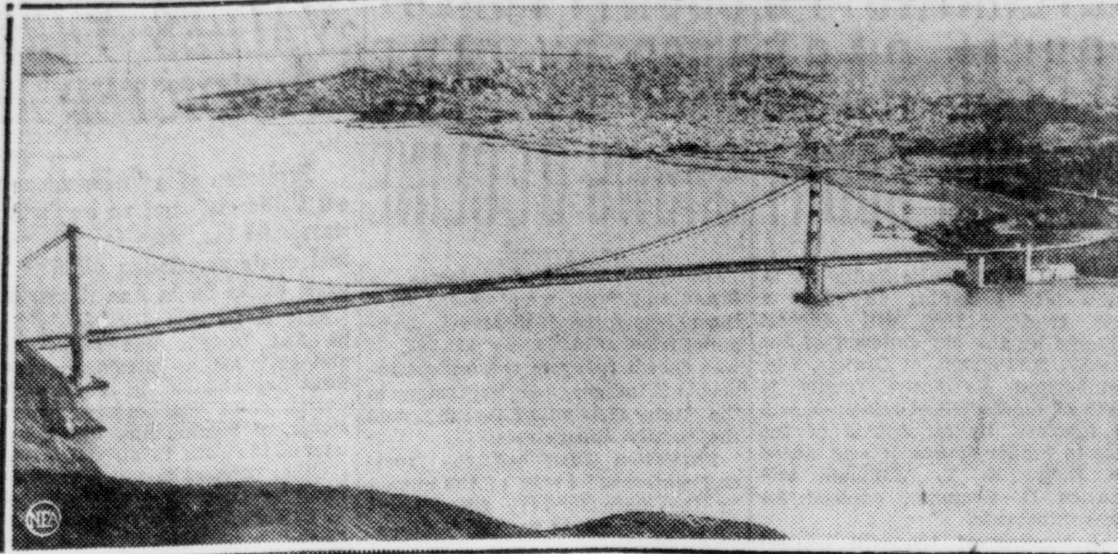

The dressed poultry in storage now is 50 per cent heavier than a year ago. Estimates place the storage holdings at 160,000,000 pounds as compared with 107,000,000 pounds last year. A general sales drive is reported under way by the American Poultry Journal to meet the poultry situation.

Bridge Over Golden Gate Nearing Completion

Its 4200-foot span adding mechanical grandeur to San Francisco's famed entrance from the Pacific, the Golden Gate bridge, above, is approaching completion, with formal opening set for May 1. Huge suspension cables and the 746-foot towers are the supports for the bridge floor, over which autos will, for the first time, drive above the Golden Gate. With the already opened Bay Bridge, San Francisco, long "isolated" on a peninsula, will have direct overland outlets north, east, and south.

Jimmy Fidler in HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 16.—Idol military figure in the colony: Lewis Stone. Jane Withers dubbed Director James Tingling "Mr. Ting-a-ling-a-ling," now half of Hollywood follows suit.

When Shirley Temple first toddled out in front of movie cameras, she had a habit of running off sets between shots to play hide-and-seek, and she would not reveal herself unless the director made a game of it (she still plays games on sets). So a bright assistant brought forth a duck-club horn, and the game was, when the horn was blown, Shirley came a-flying. Later, when she was "grown up" the horn was discarded at her suggestion.

The other day, an assistant came across the horn, and he decided to blow it and see what would follow. At the moment, Shirley was standing at the far corner of a sound stage talking to Bill Robinson. First toot and Shirley—for all the world like a pensioned fire-horse—turned and raced for the set. Halfway there, she began to slow down. Soon she was walking nonchalantly. But even at a distance I could see that her face was turning beet-red. Then, she recovered herself like a real trouper, blurring it out by walking up to the director and asking: "Isn't it about time for another scene?" I felt like applauding her poise, and a quick glance at nearby faces proved that admiration was not confined to me.

Martha Rae reminds me of a barefoot boy on hot paving. Odd how Wallace Beery always finds an excuse to visit the East just when new airplane models are exhibited. Studios invariably promise toys used in pictures starring children to the youngsters, else they pout and spoil scenes. Most

Skipper Boasts Of Dog Trained To Untie Knots

HONOLULU (UP)—A real sea dog is Toy, a husky Doberman-Pinscher pet of Capt. Reginald Helanphy of the freighter Mana.

The skipper acquired Toy from a Berkeley dog school, after his education was complete to a point where he not only could serve as a guard for his master, but could display the reasoning abilities that have won for his breed brightest fame in the world of scientific sleuthing.

Now Toy is a regular passenger on each trip of the Mana.

The captain, a 40-year-old veteran of the sea, proudly displays to his friends in this and other Hawaiian ports Toy's abilities.

A sleek, red-coated dog with cropped ears and soft brown eyes, Toy has been trained to find all manner of articles for his master. "I've forgotten my keys—they're in the engine room!" he told his dog while one friend watched. Off dashed Toy, to come triumphantly above decks a few minutes later, the keys in his mouth.

Helanphy a moment later let Toy sniff his wallet then hid the purse in a lifeboat, beneath a canvas cover. "Go get it!" he commanded. Toy searched the deck until he caught scent of the wallet, leaped into the boat, and retrieved the article.

The captain boasts that he has taught his dog to untie knots, also. Special quarters have been built for Toy aboard ship, so that he enjoys all the comforts of a deluxe, landlubber's dog house.

Contains a Threat to Tin Cans

A new type paper container, demonstrated by its inventor, Harry F. Waters, in New York, is hailed as the much sought after "paper tin can." Waters shows how filling station attendant will fill crankcase with oil from the paper container. It is intended to replace metal cans and glassware for food and other articles.

London Dugout Set For Enemy Raiders

LONDON (UP)—The first gas-proof and bomb-proof dugout in London has been completed in a basement in Buckingham Gate, near Buckingham Palace.

The dugout, which is designed to accommodate 12 persons, is equipped with a filtration plant which purifies any poisoned air, drawn from without and will even counteract the most potent poison gas.

Should the power driving the plant fail, air can be filtered by manual labor through pedals worked on the same principle as a sewing machine.

Like any commoner, Juliana vowed to "obey" her husband, though one day she may rule over him as Queen of the Dutch Empire.

Indian Woman, 92, Holds Forest Job

DULUTH, Minn. (UP)—Mrs. Charles Baker, 92, a wrinkled, white-haired full-blooded Chippewa Indian, is employed by the U. S. forest service. She still is an expert in her native crafts.

Recently Mrs. Baker completed repairs on 49 pairs of snowshoes to be used this winter on the Isabella ranger district of the Superior National forest.

She has retired to a shack deep in the woods where she lives with her son, Frank. Until spring the cottage will be snowbound. She and Frank will live on what food he can get in the woods—rabbits, deer and moose. Frank will reach the outside world occasionally by dog sled. Mrs. Baker will remain at home.

This fall Mrs. Baker gathered large quantities of wild rice from Four Mile lake to add to the winter's food supply.

Living up to advance notices which have made them favorites for the Eastern Jaycee conference basketball championship, Fullerton's Yellowjackets toyed with Santa Ana here last night, leaving the floor with an easy 43-20 decision.

The Dons didn't have much chance against the flashy club from the upcountry campus and the outcome was never in doubt from the time Leichtfuss, Woodward and Schnell dropped in baskets to give Fullerton a 6-0 lead in the first Harry Stanley, Santa Ana's southpaw forward, then hooked in a couple of nice shots and at one time Fullerton's margin was only 10-6 but by the half it was 24-14.

In the second half the Dons were limited to two field goals and two free throws—six points in all.

Coach Art Nunn of Fullerton, substituted freely, using no less than 12 men and they had little trouble with the Dons' defensive tactics. Coach Blanchard Beatty was not altogether pleased with the performance of his club but believes they did better than against Riverside Wednesday night when they were snowed under by 54-24.

With Stanley hitting the hoop for 12 points and high point honors, the Dons gave indications of better basketball before conference race gets into full swing.

A combination of Don reserves—Tay Riggs and Don Randall, forwards Hal Eastham, center, and Bob Faul, guard — displayed a fighting brand of court play during the final quarter when Coach Beatty injected them into the fray.

The Dons meet Charley at Ontario Wednesday night and take on the highly publicized San Bernardino Indians here Friday.

The SUN NEVER GETS AS FAR NORTH AS FLORIDA, YET, DURING THE SUMMER MONTHS, ITS RAYS STRIKE THE NORTH SIDE OF BUILDINGS FAR UP IN THE TEMPERATE ZONE!

The FEMALE FALCON WAS PREFERRED IN THE ANCIENT SPORT OF FALCONRY, BECAUSE SHE WAS LARGER, SWIFTER, AND FIERCE THAN THE MALE.

BUFFALO HERDS IN THE UNITED STATES ARE INCREASING IN SIZE SUFFICIENTLY FOR UNCLE SAM TO SELL OFF SURPLUS ANIMALS EACH YEAR TO PRIVATE INSTITUTIONS.

FROM about March 21 to Sept. 22, the sun, as seen from the earth, rises at a point on the horizon north of east, and sets on the horizon at a point north of west, although it actually comes no farther north than north latitude 23½ degrees. The sun's actual distance south can be observed at noon, when it is on the meridian.

LIONS, LADY LIONS, LIONETTES ARE ENTERTAINED AT LAGUNA

LAGUNA BEACH, Jan. 16.—The joint celebration, dinner, theater party and incidental jollification of the Lions club, Lady Lions, a lionette or two, and friends to the aggregate score of nearly one hundred, was held last night in the White House banquet hall. A turkey dinner was served; music by Dan Grant, Johnny Marriner, and Irvin Couser, good Lions all, helped matters along. The dinner out of the way, the 1936 activities of the Lions were tabulated briefly, unobtrusively, and becomingly, with emphasis upon duties still ahead, in 1937.

Trail-twister Joe Hosslein, the official gamewit of various fish and leviathans against Lions for food or no reasons had a banner time, but his efforts did not go unrewarded. After having toiled diligently during the dinner, Joe was presented with unexpected, magnificent, exotic botanical tribute, in the form of a bouquet, which he accepted with appropriately deprecating gestures. "After all, I only done my duty," was the gist of Joe's response.

Lady Lions soon assumed charge of proceedings, openly and charmingly, after Dave Balfour, presiding in the absence of President, Paul Jackson, had turned things over to Mrs. Frank Kibbey, who briefly introduced some new Lady Lions, the Mesdames: Jennings Bird, J. Wade, Tom Bird, Harry Nolan being the recipients of congratulations from both Lions and Lady Lions, as their insignia were conferred by Mrs. Kibbey.

Following the session, the party attended, in a body, a special presentation of "After the Thin Man," screened at the Lynn theatre. Those noted present included: Messrs and Mesdames Vincent King, Chester Maag, David Balfour, LeRoy Walden, L. A. O. Balfell, Tom Bird, Raymond S. Fisher, Geo. Thompson, Ward Sutton, Clyde Mackey, Harrel Arnette, Paul Beckquist, Ted Harris, Joe Hosslein, Maurice Guyer, Bronson Buxton, A. Goff, Tom Parcy, Johnny Marriner, Harry Bowles, Lloyd Accord, lovely social escorts, including Dan Grant, two others who declined identification by name, and W. F. Kay. Besides scores whose names didn't, weren't, or couldn't be secured. Excuse it, please.

Last Rites For Pioneer W.C.T.U. Worker Are Held

MIDWAY CITY, Jan. 16.—Mrs. Libbia M. Florey, 86, of this city, who was buried yesterday in Pioneer cemetery, was one of the oldest members, in years of service, in the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. She had been a member of the organization for 65 years.

As a girl in Rochester, N. Y., she was a pupil of Frances Willard, founder of the W. C. T. U. and had been active in its affairs since her twenty-first birthday. For many years she taught in the schools of New York and after coming to Midway City was active in church work, being superintendent of the home department of the Community Sunday school since organization of the church. She died last Monday from the effects of injuries received more than a year ago when she fell at her home here.

DOCTOR SPEAKER AT P.T.A.

BUENA PARK, Jan. 16.—Dr. Milton Counter, school physician, conducted an open forum discussion at the meeting of the Lindbergh P.T.A. last night at the local school. Subjects discussed in round table fashion centered on ailments peculiar to childhood such as ringworm, sty, rashes, and a simplification of well used medical terms.

A piano solo by Carl Tivel, instructor at the Grand avenue school, and two readings, "Seven Ages of Man," and "At the Dentists," by Laura Belle La Rue preceded Dr. Counter's talk.

Proposed changes in by-laws whereby the fiscal year of the local organization will begin April first in harmony with the state and national organizations were read. This change, to be voted on at the February meeting, will provide for the selection of a nominating committee in March and the installation of officers in April.

Tentative plans for a benefit card party or series of card parties were also discussed. Mrs. James Loomis' room was winner of the attendance count.

A Founders' day program will be held at the February meeting with the historian, Mrs. William Tatum in charge.

A dessert course of sandwiches, gelatine salad, and coffee was served at the social hour which followed the meeting. Hostesses were Mrs. Dave Stocks, Mrs. Grace Mack and Mrs. Dena Humbert.

King without a country

BEGIN HERE TODAY
PAUL L. King of Northumbria, becomes private citizen PAUL FERRONE when he abdicates for the love of ARDATH RICHMOND, Canadian-born actress. Paul's younger brother, JOSEPH, succeeds to the kingship.

With calm finality, Paul signs the formal abdication papers at his royal lodge, says, "Well, gentlemen, it is all over." Then, after briefly wishing his brother well, he speeds to the royal airport, boards a plane and soars off into the night, leaving his empire behind him forever.

Paul and Ardath marry, choose a charming villa on Bay St. Francis. Paul revels in his new freedom. He's deliciously happy with his bride. And then one day he walks into the nearby village of San Lorenzo. He overhears curious tourists asking a shopkeeper where that "king" and his kid friend have hid out.

Angry, terrified lest he be recognized, Paul turns back to the villa, thinking only of protection behind its walls.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
The characters and situations in this story are wholly fictional and imaginary and are not intended to portray any actual persons or events.

CHAPTER III
"BUT dearest," Ardath was saying, pouting prettily, "these are all people we know. There aren't any strangers there."

"I know," said Paul. "It's just that—that—oh, I guess the truth is I hate to run the gamut of the tourists in San Lorenzo. I hate to see them all swinging their cameras at me, to hear them jabbering, 'Look—there he is!' in five languages."

He grinned ruefully. "I suppose it'll be all right, though, especially since it'll be fairly dark."

"And anyway," said Ardath, "they won't be at the Casino. That, thank heaven, is too expensive for the ordinary run of tourist. Besides, the countess is expecting us. It would look a bit foolish, if we turned her down at the last minute."

"I suppose so." Reluctantly, Paul turned to go to his dressing room and change to evening attire. "Though I must say," he said, "the Countess di Marco is not precisely a lady for whose good opinion I would lie awake nights and worry."

"Why, Paul? She's nice—" began Ardath, but Paul had gone. He undressed and bathed moodily, and told himself that he must not quarrel with Ardath—he must not, for he was all she had and she was all he had.

ANNUAL BANQUET PLANNED BY NEWPORT HARBOR C. OF C.

NEWPORT-BALBOA, Jan. 16.—Every section of the harbor district will be well represented at the annual dinner and program that is being arranged for the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce to be held on Thursday, January 21 at the Newport Harbor Yacht club pavilion, according to Harry Welch, secretary of the organization. Among the speakers that have been engaged by S. A. Meyer, president of the Chamber, are Frank Rossow, president of the California Newspaper Publishers association, and John B. Long, manager of the association.

Commodore William A. Bartholomew jr. will speak in behalf of the Newport Harbor Yacht club and Dr. J. E. Ziegler, commodore of the Balboa Yacht club, will represent that body of yachtmen and boat owners of the new Newport harbor. Willard Smith, chairman of the Orange county super-visors, and N. E. West, also a member of that board, will be present, together with several well known newspaper men and other public officials, including the entire Newport Beach city council.

The main speaker of the evening will be Ed Ainsworth, state editor of the Los Angeles Times. An invitation has been wired to Miss Penelope Balbriggan, in care of Mr. Ainsworth, to attend the gathering and give her views of the future of yachting and seaside costuming for the coming season for Newport-Balboa.

Four major district tables, captioned by members of the board of directors, will be arranged including a table for speakers and another for the press. A special musical program is being arranged. It was stated, E. I. Moore, J. P. Greeley, Mason Siler, J. D. Watkins, Dr. Howard Seager, Paul Palmer and Hubbard Howe are among those in charge of table arrangements.

WATCH DUG UP IN GARDEN
NEWCOMERTOWN, O. (UP)—Seven years ago Harry Schweitzer laid a valuable watch while plowing his garden plot. While digging potatoes this year the watch was turned up and for $1.40 made "as good as new."

Stooping, she peeled her gown over her head and tossed it blithely away. . . . Paul felt a sudden, acute desire to get out of the Casino and away from the vacuous folk who peopled it.

They entered a large room. At one end, there was a bar; at the other, a raised dais where a small but energetic colored orchestra was doing things to a torch song. A few couples were dancing; others sat at little tables, sipping drinks; still others came and went through the double doors that gave on the game rooms; but most of the guests—of whom there were at least fifty—were simply standing about in groups, chatting.

Ardath, Paul saw, had been mistaken; they were not all people he knew. He did recognize many of them, however; they were members of the gay sporting set that drifted from one international capital to another, from this playground to the next, dedicated apparently, to the self-imposed task of filling every minute of life with activity, whether the activity meant anything in particular or not, so that there could never be a moment of boredom, of solitude, or of reflection.

A SLIM young man with an old face disengaged himself from a group and came over to them. The Countess di Marco slipped an arm about his waist and said, "Reggie Van Twyne—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ferrone." She said it rather proudly; not yet had the thrill gone out of introducing the former king of Northumbria as plain "mister."

Reggie Van Twyne bowed. He was an American, of the type known to the Sunday supplements as "flick young playboy." Paul knew him by repute; a gay youngster, not particularly depraved or COSTA MESA, Jan. 16.—Preliminary steps toward the organization of a Boy Scout Community council were made this week when representatives of the various social and civic organizations of the town met in the social hall of the Community church to discuss the local Boy Scout and Cub Scout program for 1937. Harrison E. White, chief executive of the Orange county Scout council, was at the meeting and related the experiences that other county communities had had under such a program and recommended the proper procedure to follow in the organization here. George Teaney, chairman of the Costa Mesa Scout committee, was in charge of the meeting.

Henry Abrams, principal of the local elementary school, the organization of the Newport Harbor Union High school, and Mrs. Ward Pilley, representative of the local P.T.A., were named as a committee to compile a set of by-laws and perfect other arrangements for the organization of a council.

Those present included Mr. Teaney and Mr. Grable, members of the Boy Scout troop committee; Paul Fisher, Ward Pilley and Elmer Clark, the Cub Scout troop committee; Mrs. H. B. McMurry, president of the Community church Women's Aid society; Mrs. Pilley, of the P.T.A.; A. J. Dodge, member of the county council; Albert Dudek and Emil Greener, Scout committeemen of the Lions club; Mrs. K. C. Brown, of the local W. G. D. club; and Mrs. Grable, representative of the Friendly class of the Community church school. Mr. Grable also represented the American Legion auxiliary and the chamber of commerce.

Scoutmaster Lloyd Willcutt spoke briefly portraying some of the plans that have been made for activities in the two above mentioned troops for the coming year.

and wandered to the balcony that overlooked the water. He stood there, leaning idly against a pillar and smoking in silence, when a bulky shape appeared in the doorway.

"Oh—it's you, Ferrone?" said a gruff voice. The shape came nearer and resolved itself into the person of Baron Lanzia, one of the wealthiest industrialists in all Northumbria. He swaggered over to the railing, looking—as he always did—as powerful and as ruthless as a grizzly. Lighting a cigar, he stood surveying Paul with an expression on his face which Paul could not quite make out.

"You know," said the baron suddenly, "good job, your quitting when you did. Good job for me, I mean. Those tours of yours. They didn't do me any good?"

"Tours?" said Paul. He had never liked Baron Lanzia; not did he like the half-contemptuous way in which the man said "Ferrone."

"Uh," said the baron. "Down into the coal fields around Lazare. I pressed areas—you know. Stirred up too much talk. Made my stockholders ask a lot of silly questions. No good."

He stepped inside. Paul remembered his last tour to the Lazare coal fields, along the north coast of Northumbria. He had gone into that hopelessly depressed region some six months ago, and had seen there poverty and degradation such as he had never before dreamed of. Hardest of all to endure had been the heartbreaking look of hope and trust with which the jobless miners and their families had greeted him. Their king, they had been sure, could do something for them—what, they did not know, but surely something.

Paul savagely threw away his cigar and returned to the bar. Mademoiselle de Lys had gone. The orchestra was playing loudly, people's voices were raised, everyone seemed to be talking at once. Nearby, Reggie Van Twyne's pretty wife, her face flushed, was arguing with the eastern potentate and an Argentine polo player.

"Can, too," said shrilly. "Can dance jus' as good as de Lys ever did. Don' need fan. Look!" She made her way suddenly to the end of the room by the orchestra and said something to the director. There was a rattle of drums, which stopped the conversation and drew all eyes to her.

"Fan dance! By me!" she cried. Stooping, she peeled her gown off over her head and tossed it blithely away. It fell on the neck of the drummer, who leered delightedly. Before she could go any farther Reggie was at her side, grinning shamefacedly, he managed to pick her up in his arms and carry her away, while someone retrieved the discarded frock, bore it after them and the orchestra struck up a new tune.

Paul felt a sudden, acute desire to get out of the Casino and away from the vacuous folk who peopled it. As he looked about him for Ardath he heard a man's voice, at his elbow. Someone was asking him, "Well, Paul, was it such a bargain—giving up your throne for . . . THIS?"

ROMEO, JULIET GARDEN ALLAH BEGINS MONDAY OPENS SUNDAY AT WEST COAST AT BROADWAY

Deathless in its beauty, sublime in its passion, magnetic in its spectacle, "Romeo and Juliet" starring Norma Shearer and Leslie Howard in the world's most beloved romance, will open at the Fox West Coast theater on Monday, according to announcement made today by Manager Lester J. Fountain.

"Romeo and Juliet" as it has been produced by the late Irving G. Thalberg is a motion picture that will bear seeing again and again, a picture that marks an important step in the advancement of entertainment.

More radiant than ever, Miss Shearer fulfills the promise she gave as the lovely Elizabeth Barrett in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." It is her finest role. She rises to every occasion in a part made famous by the greatest actresses of the stage. Her Juliet has a breathless expectancy, a feeling of vibrant youth so essential to the portrayal of Shakespeare's immortal heroine. Howard's selection as Romeo was a happy one. He is every inch Romeo. Together they make these young lovers of Verona live again.

"Romeo and Juliet" has been pictured with fidelity. Beginning with the opening scenes which establish the hatred of the Montagues and Capulets, whose feud causes the young lovers to marry in secret, the death of Mercutio at the hands of Tybalt, to Romeo's slaying of Tybalt to avenge his friend's death, his banishment and the swift dramatic events that follow, the picture is all action. The love story is woven like a golden thread through this background of hate.

"Romeo and Juliet" is recommended to every member of the family. It is a picture that will Prompted by success of his first independently produced picture "Little Lord Fauntleroy," David O. Selznick entered the technicolor field to produce "The Garden of Allah," which brings Marlene Dietrich and Charles Boyer to the Fox Broadway theater tomorrow.

Inasmuch as much of the locale of the picture is the Algerian desert, much of it was shot out-of-doors in natural color against the picturesque background of America's Sahara.

The actual location of the Selznick camp was the sand dunes at 17 miles west of Yuma, Arizona. More than 200 persons were quartered there, comprising the permanent staff during the making of the picture, and scores of others who were recruited and shipped from Hollywood to take part in the crowd scenes.

Miss Dietrich's costumes in the picture, designed by Ernst Dryden, are of special interest, because the production is the first modern love story brought to the screen in technicolor. For the first time the public will see not only the designs but also the color scheme worn by a great star.

Known as one of the best dressed women in Hollywood, Marlene always has a hand in the selection and design of her costumes and supervised the designing of many of the unusual clothes she wears in "The Garden of Allah."

Featured in the supporting cast of "The Garden of Allah" are Basil Rathbone, C. Aubrey Smith, Tilly Losch and Joseph Schildkraut, while others prominently cast are John Carradine, Alan Marshall, Lucille Weston and Henry Brandon.

never be forgotten, for it is a picture that will live for years.

ATTRACTIONS AT LOCAL THEATERS

Charlene Wyatt, Jackie Moran and the talented Gladys George, famous stage actress, are pictured here. They have the leads in "Valiant Is the Name for Carrie," a powerful story of sacrifice which plays at Walker's Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Thrills and laughs abound in "High Tension" the dramatic story of the lives of deep sea divers, in which Brian Donlevy, Glenda Farrell and Norman Foster, shown here, are featured. It shows at the State Sunday and Monday.

Leslie Howard and Norma Shearer are shown in a scene from "Romeo and Juliet" which opens at the Fox West Coast theater for two days, starting Monday.

Charles Boyer and Marlene Dietrich are co-starred in "The Garden of Allah" which opens at the Fox Broadway theater tomorrow.

Coming Attractions

WALKER'S

"The Devil Is a Sissy," built on the theme that it takes a "tough guy" to withstand the temptations of love, and "Relations," a Laurel and Hardy comedy, are the features scheduled for Walker's theater next Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Freddie Bartholomew, Jackie Cooper, Mickey Rooney and Ian Hunter have the leads in "The Devil Is a Sissy." It concerns the adventures of boyhood today in the great cities.

Dual roles are played by the famous comedy team in the second feature, as respectable business men of the community and their twin rascally brothers who are sailors. The settings are unusually elaborate, according to advance notices.

The regular Friday night stage show is scheduled for 8:30 p. m. with eight acts of amateur and professional talent.

Pictures booked for the future include "Camille," "Gold Diggers of 1937," "After the Thin Man," "College Holiday," "Pennies from Heaven" and "Banjo on My Knee."

FOX BROADWAY

The tender love which existed between two of the hardest characters of the old west, "Wild Bill" Hickock, two-fisted hard-shooting exponent of law-and-order as the newly opened territory show it, and "Calamity Jane," a beauty who packed a pair of six-guns and drove a six-horse stagecoach over what then passed for roads, is the basis for Cecil B. DeMille's latest screen masterpiece, "The Plainsman," which opens at the Fox Broadway theater on January 24.

History relates how Hickock, played by Gary Cooper, was named by the government to investigate gun-running in the west because he was among the most feared of the bold and toughened characters of a region known for its hard and brave men, when that region was first opened for immigration, around 1870.

It also relates that Hickock never wounded an adversary, it was always a sure hit, and with this reputation as his letter of introduction, the handsome soldier of fortune went into the far west to find out who was selling rifles to the Indians in express violation of a government order.

On the way he meets the beautiful "Calamity Jane," played by Jean Arthur, so named by a troop of soldiers who found her as a child in the wilderness beside the bodies of her parents—killed by Indians. They never knew her real name and she was, indeed, a child of calamity. The handsome Hickock loves the beautiful "Calamity Jane," but never lets her know it, mostly because he resents her familiarity with other men. But she loves him and never has any compunction about showing it.

Hickock discovers who is responsible for the gun-running after Gen. George A. Custer and his whole cavalry regiment are wiped out by the Indians at Little Big Horn. But the discovery costs him dear. One of his prisoners, the notorious Jack McCall, portrayed by Porter Hall, whom he herds into a Deadwood saloon, operated by "Calamity Jane," brings tragedy in a breathless climax.

STATE

Sir Guy Standing, Tom Brown, Frances Drake and Janet Beecher head the cast of "I'd Give My Life," a poignant and thrilling drama, which shows at the State theater next Tuesday and Wednesday.

On the same bill is a comedy drama that deals with the war of big business against racketeers. Guy Kibbee, Warren Hull, Alma Lloyd, Dick Foran, Marie Wilson and Henry O'Neill have leading roles. "Crash Donovan," starring Jack Holt, tops the bill for the rest of the week starting Thursday.

It concerns the daring exploits and heroism of the state highway patrolmen who make life miserable for criminals and reckless drivers.

FOX BROADWAY

The thundering hoofs that dashed across the pages of history to be immortalized by the unforgettable poem of Lord Tennyson sound again through Warner Bros.' stupendous screen version of "The Charge of the Light Brigade," which has been signed by Manager Lester J. Fountain to open at the Fox Broadway theater next Thursday.

Errol Flynn and Olivia de Havilland are starred in the feature roles.

Tennyson's verse deals only with the famous charge of the Light Brigade against the Russian artillery on the heights of Balaklava during the Crimean war—an action which forms only the terrific climax of the film story that is replete with thrills from start to finish, and presents a glamorous romance in which two brothers are rivals for the love of a beautiful girl.

The picture, heralded as one of the biggest productions ever filmed by Warner Bros., has an all-star cast of 20 noted actors in the important roles, and over 15,000 extra people. Scenes are said to be spectacular in the extreme, with border skirmishes, hand-to-hand fighting, and the soul stirring charge of the Light Brigade. Scenes depict colorful interiors of the palace of Surut Khan, Smir of Suristan, with his Nauteh dancing girls and slaves—as well as mammoth exteriors of British walled towns.

Errol Flynn has the role of a young English army officer stationed in India, who is betrothed to the daughter of his superior officer. During his absence, fighting on the frontier, however, his younger brother steals the love of his sweetheart and finally imprisons him of the fact.

It is not until the eve of his departure to the Crimean war that his fiancée—Olivia de Havilland—tells him of her love for his brother and her fear that the latter will be killed. His life wrecked, the young officer promises that his brother shall not be subjected to danger, and leaves for the Crimea, with only the thought of vengeance against Surut Khan, who has been responsible for the massacre of British men, women and children.

FOX WEST COAST

Joan Crawford and Clark Gable have the time of their lives in their new co-starring picture, "Love on the Run," which has been booked by Manager Lester J. Fountain for its local premiere at the Fox West Coast theater next Wednesday.

Not in a long time has there been a picture which has the freshness, gaiety and spontaneity of "Love on the Run."

Acted to perfection by its ace team of stars with the support of Fanchon Tone, Reginald Owen, Mona Barrie and others, the new offering has that combination of wit, charm and pulsating action which marked such earlier hits as "The Thin Man" and "It Happened One Night."

Miss Crawford, stunningly photographed, has never been more vibrant than in her present role of the American heiress who on the verge of marrying a nobleman finds out just in time that it is her money rather than herself that he is after.

In an attempt to escape from interviewers she rushed pell-mell into the arms of Gable, playing an American correspondent, and consequently finds herself immersed in a series of hairbreadth escapades involving Fanchon Tone as a rival reporter, and a clever pair of continental swindlers. In the tangled events that ensue Gable

Laughs and romance hold the center of the stage in this spectacular production which presents many novelty features. "California Mail," a rip-snorting action story of the days when stage coaches supplanted the pony express riders to carry the mail in the west, will be screened for the last times at the State tonight. Dick Foran is the hero of this fast moving picture. The bill also brings a Popeye cartoon, a news reel, a Popeye cartoon and a chapter of "Custer's Last Stand."

Following her early childhood ambition, Sonja, whose first screen success, the spectacular musical smash hit, "One in a Million," current attraction at the Fox West Coast theater, learned to dance before she could skate, and later studied with the renowned Ballet Russe.

"The Ice is the best and most logical scene for dancing," declares Sonja. Liberated from the friction of the wooden floor, the dancer loses all her weight, in addition to being able to move much faster and with far greater ease and agility.

Having already astounded the sport world and then a much wider public with her exhibitions of unbelievable grace and rhythm on skates, Sonja leads a breath-

GRIPPING PLAY OPENS SUNDAY AT WALKER'S

A gripping drama and a gay romantic comedy are scheduled for patrons of Walker's new theater, Third and Bush streets, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. They are "Valiant Is the Name of Carrie," with the famous stage actress Gladys George in the title role, and "Smartest Girl in Town," with that successful light comedy team, Ann Sothern and Gene Raymond.

The climax of Miss George's picture comes when she is forced to choose between a jail term or worse dishonor in the eyes of two children whom she adopted and brought up as her own. The story is that of the regeneration of a woman through the great sacrifice she is willing to undergo, and the love she has found with the two little waifs who trusted and loved her. Others in the cast are Jackie Moran and Charlene Wyatt as the young children, John Howard and Arline Judge as the children grown up, Isabel Jewell, Harry Carey, Dudley Digges and William Collier sr.

Miss Sothern is cast as a glamorous photographer's model in her picture, while Raymond, who is a millionaire who has fallen desperately in love with her, poses as a model too, in order to be near the object of his affections. There are many hilarious episodes and a hair-raising climax before all is straightened out. Helen Broderick, Eric Blore and Erik Rhodes have important roles.

The program also presents a late "March of Time" reel.

Continuous shows begin at 1 p. m. Saturdays and Sundays and at 2 p. m. the other days of the week.

SONJA HENIE BIG

HIT IN FILM AT

FOX WEST COAST

The ideal place for the most advantageous expression of the Dance is neither dance floor, nor ballroom, nor the stage, according to the radiant Sonja Henie, possessor of a "roomful" of trophies and medals for figure-skating and holder of world's and Olympic championships.

SANTA ANA, CALIFORNIA, SATURDAY, JANUARY 16, 1937

Bridal Couple Begin Travels Through East

Their marriage a quiet event of yesterday evening in Santa Ana. The bride, Mrs. D. E. Terry, already an en route east to take delivery on a new car and make a leisurely trip homeward. Upon return, they will establish their home in Huntington Beach, where the bridegroom has the Buick agency.

Miss Irene McGuire, daughter of Mrs. Cora McGuire, 803 North Broadway became the bride of Mr. Terry, son of Mrs. Alice Terry of Cookeville, Tenn., at a 5 o'clock ceremony. She wore a gold blouse with her smart black wool suit, to which an orchid gave a bridal touch. She carried the same lace handkerchief as had her sister, Mrs. S. L. Terry (Alice McGuire) for her wedding. Little more than a year ago in the home of her mother, S. L. Terry is a brother of the present bridegroom.

The Rev. J. G. Hurst, pastor of Huntington Beach First Christian church in which the Terrys hold membership, officiated at the chapel wedding. For the occasion the bride's mother wore a blue printed frock with gardenias. Guests in addition to Mr. and Mrs. Terry were the bride's mother and an aunt, Mrs. McGuire of this city and Mrs. May S. Jackson of Huntington Beach; the bridegroom's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Brown of Bellflower; Miss Frances Hill of this city.

The Rev. Mr. Hurst joined the intimate little group and the bride couple at a wedding dinner at the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe. Guests were seated at a prettily arranged table whose appointments included a decorated wedding cake served with the last course.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Terry left Los Angeles last night at 8 o'clock via Union Pacific for Chicago, Ill. They will spend a short time there before going to Flint, Mich., to take delivery on a new car. They plan to visit with Mr. Terry's relatives in Tennessee, stopping at various points of interest en route home to Southern California.

The new Mrs. Terry has been employed with Southern Counties Gas company for the past six years, having been in the Huntington Beach office for part of that time and in the Anaheim office for the past three years. She attended Fullerton junior college following graduation from Huntington Beach high school. Mr. Terry has his schooling in Tennessee.

Wait A Minute

Somebody said something once about a man making better mousetraps than his neighbors—and the world beating a path to his door. Guess it must be true, according to Hurrell, that BEEG Hollywood portrait photographer whose artistry has brought him such fame that they do say he commands tremendous prices, even if you just pass his studio. But it was not always thus, my children. Time was when he was an obscure and very impecunious photographer indeed, struggling for a bare existence down in our own Laguna. But fate, in the charming guise of Norma Shearer, came knocking at his door—and the worth and beauty of his particular brand of mousetraps became known. Miss Shearer had exactly 15 minutes—count 'em—in which to have her tintype took. He used all 16 of 'em and produced three dozen portraits of such quality that his obscurity and his struggles ceased simultaneously. Just try and get one of his mousetraps now!...And by the way, Hurrell and Ted (Coo Coo) Cook, who is by way of being quite a person himself when it comes to amateur photography, are staging an exhibit soon in Hollywood where they tell us some right interesting 'mo'm pichers are made.

Doesn't Henriette (Mrs. George) Walker look cute in a thinking cap? She is wearing one regularly these days, trying to think up new plans for the spring fashion show which Junior Ebell gals will present under her chairmanship.... Cecyle (Contrato and Mrs. Tommie) Willis has been hobnobbing again with the Wamamakers and people of that ilk up at Yucca Loma ranch. "I do my own housework and I sing at funerals" she announced to them flatly, only to be warmly accepted for what she really is, a gal of charming personality with a really lovely voice.... Add to disconcerting moments, that time at the recent holidays, when Cecyle discovered that the 15 pounds of fruitcake which she and Mama Mattie B. Tingley had made for Crismus presents, had all moulded!

Just at random.... Grace (Teacher) Lund expressing amazement at a pupil's use of the word "him," given for use in a sentence. The result was "I put the him in my skirt".... Sam (Rancher-Ex-Shurf) Jernigan thoughtfully surveying the periodicals on a newsstand—we don't know whether he chose Time or Life or just the Woman's Home Companion.... Estelle (Doc) Workman gazing at the spring styles in a window on the main trail.... straw hats too, so help me!

Nan (Let's Go Buy) Buy With Betty Ann) Mead dashing around in the recent rain, protected with umbrella, goloshes and a swank fur coat.... Albert J. (Sierra Clubber) Perkins telling us that he certainly wouldn't want to figure in Wait a Minute, but always reads it.... Bob (Attorney) Mize with a far-away look in his eyes while having his shoes shined by his own Tom (Always Smiling) Walker.

Minna (Poet and Mrs. Robert) Shafer can gain inspiration from the most fragrant of scented candles in bright colors, sent her by Jose Hiera of Olvera street, after he heard her charming poem, "The Candlemaker" in Los Angeles Saturday night.... When Orissa (Mrs. J. Homer Anderson) goes to Denver, she hobnobs with no less a personage than Willard E. Hawkins, editor of "Author and Journalist," a magazine which finds its way into the homes of many Santa Ana writers, but especially into the Anderson home, for because why Orissa and Editor Willard are sister and brother, and while Brother Willard was on the staff of "Editor" in New York, Sister Orissa was studying at Columbia and storing up happy memories of happy associations.... By the way, Orissa and Homer are contemplating further additions to that interesting California style home of theirs which has grown bit by bit. A fireplace in knotty pine is their next ambition.... Speaking of fireplaces, that at the ranch home of Cecyl and Carl (Linotype) Thrasher is one of the pleasantest we know—just like an English Christmas scene.... But if those fires sparkle, so does the diamond that has appeared on the significant finger of Mae Belle (Riverside) Lupo's left hand and indicates her interest in and for Charles (Printer) Francis of hereabouts.

Several nominees for the most sparkling eyes—the kind that light up with little fires with every smile. They are those of Zella (Ebell Cor. Sec. and Mrs. W. S.) Thomson. Mildred (Woman's club Mrs. John J.) Vernon and Dorothy (Scripps College) Proctor.... When Grace (National Girl Reserve Sec.) Stuff was in town this week, covering more territory than you might believe with Mary (Local G. R. Sec.) Porter, she was tersely and cleverly summed up by Morgan (Civ. ## Another March Wedding Date Is Announced March bids fair to take its place this year with June, in popularity as a bridal month, and latest of Santa Ana's charming girls to reveal plans for a March wedding, is Miss Lucille Dunn, daughter of George Dunn, 608 West Second street, who will wed Howard Gould, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gould of this community.

It was the privilege of two of Miss Dunn's sisters, Mrs. Charles Leimer and Mrs. Glenn Eustis, to make this interesting announcement when they entertained last night in the Doris Kathryn. Party appointments were all in a tone as rosy as the plans of the young couple, and amidst the bowls of pink roses and greenery, tables were placed for court whist. Scores recorded on cards of dainty design showed Miss Genevieve Eustis as winner. When first prize was presented her there was also a consolation gift which went to Mrs. Nelson Rogers.

When the sister hostesses invited their guests to the adjoining room for refreshments, the pink and white napkins disclosed the romantic betrothal news, for each was lettered with "Lucille and Howard: March." Refreshments were served from a table laden with pink roses, and lighted with slim pink tapers. Even the favors continued the color scheme.

Miss Dunn had chosen for the occasion, a brown tailored costume brightened by the corsage cluster of yellow rosebuds which was the gift of her fiancé. He had thoughtfully included flowers for the hostesses as well; so that Mrs. Leimer wore violets with her black crepe gown, and Mrs. Eustis had camellias to complete her black velvet costume.

Guests to whom the engagement was revealed included Mr. Gould's mother and cousin, Mrs. John Gould and Mrs. Clyde M. Deardorff, Mrs. Ruth Plummer, grandmother of the hostesses and the bride-elect, and of two other sisters in the guest group, Mrs. Paul Brown and Miss Ruth Dunn; the Misses Hope Hackett, Corrine Hamilton, Genevieve Eustis, Marjane Belcher, Muriel Greene, Maxine Ogden, Mesdames Ernest Dunn, Nelson Rogers and Walter Limbaugh. Many of these guests are brides-elect or recent brides.

Both Miss Dunn and Mr. Gould are graduates of Santa Ana High school, and the latter continued his studies at Junior college. He is associated with his father in ranching.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaught were showered with many interesting-looking packages which proved to contain kitchen accessories and gifts of pottery for their home.

In the group were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hehn and sons, Billie and James, Costa Mesa; Miss Helen Glancy, Clarence Patmor, Mrs. Ross McNeill and daughter, Nayan, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. ## Case-O'Brien Rites Have Setting In Bride's Home

California's sunshine seemed to burst forth from the golden chrysantheums which belied midwinter and added their cheery note to decorations for the wedding yesterday afternoon of Miss Irene Elizabeth O'Brien and Harold Sylvester Case. Mrs. Eva B. O'Brien's home, 1216 South Flower street, was setting for the ceremony which united in marriage her daughter and Mr. Case, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Case of Lemon Heights.

Touches of sentiment were evoked in various details of the wedding, which took place at 4:30 o'clock. A musical program was given by the bride's sister, Miss Helen O'Brien and by two girl-good friends, Mrs. Dean Morehouse and Miss Rowena Newcomb.

Miss Newcomb played a violin solo, "Saut d'Amour" (Elgar), for which she was accompanied by Mrs. Morehouse. The latter sang "Because" (d'Hardelot), with Miss Helen O'Brien at the piano. Resuming her place at the piano, Morehouse played "The Cloister" followed by the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin (Wagner). Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played as a recessional.

Decorations in tall bronze candelabra glowed on the flowers and background of palms and ferns which had been arranged in the living room. Here the young people took their places before the Rev. Calvin Duncan, pastor of Tustin Presbyterian church. The bride was charmingly attired in a tailored suit whose rich gold tones were accented with brown blouse. Talisman roses provided an ideal corsage cluster for the pretty costume. Miss O'Brien's lovely point lace handkerchief was the same which her mother had carried for her own wedding many years ago.

Reception Wedding guests remained for an informal reception honoring the newly-married couple. Mrs. O'Brien wore a navy blue sheer frock and Mrs. John Case was attired in the bridegroom's parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Case and Miss Eleanor Case, his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Goodwin, and his grandmother, Jean; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. A graduate of Capistrano High school, he attended Santa Ana Junior college and Davis Agricultural college.

His bride is a graduate of Santa Ana High school and of Pasadena Hospital Training School for Nurses. She is a member of Wrycende Maedgen club of this city.

Co-Hostesses Plan Charming Party Details

So lovely an effect was achieved by Mrs. Walter O. Hill and Mrs. Henry S. Williams in a contract luncheon at which they entertained yesterday in Daniger's, that guests are still recalling the charm of blue and gold as it appeared in table appointments.

Places were indicated at the U-shaped table grouping by cards with a hand-painted design of yellow rosebuds, the artistic work of Mrs. Hubert Nail. The dominant table at the base of the U was centered with a graceful crystal tree reflected in a circular mirror plaque with twinkling candle flames from the heavy crystal candlesticks with their iridescent prisms. On the branching tables were white baskets with bubble balls, the basket handles entwined with yellow roses, and linked by deep blue ribbons to candlesticks with blue candles, and individual bubble bowls of yellow rosebuds.

As the guests were grouped for after-luncheon contract, the two hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Frank Andrews in various details of the afternoon, including the checking of bridge scores. To Mrs. Howard Rapp with high score, went first prize with second and third prizes awarded Mrs. Harry G. Huffman and Mrs. Fred Merker. Mrs. Williams and Mrs. Hill included an additional gift for Mrs. Nail in appreciation of her having designed the charming place cards.

Among those on the invitation list were Mesdames J. B. Tucker, Milo K. Tedstrom, Harvey Spears, William Stauffer, Harold Segerstrom, Charles Swanner, Howard Rapp, Paul Ragan, George Parker, Cassie Paul, Robert Mize, Bruce Monroe, Charles Nussbaumer, Harold Nelson, Arthur May, Roy Langley, Fred Merker, Harry G. # COME TO CHURCH

The Church is the meeting place for God and His People

A SERMONETTE "COME TO CHURCH CAMPAIGN"

By GEORGE L. GRANT, Pastor
Four Square Gospel Church, Costa Mesa

REV. G. L. GRANT

"Prince of Peace"

ISA. 9:6-7 "For unto us a child is born, unto us a Son is given; and the government shall be upon His shoulder, and His name shall be called Wonderful, Counselor, The Mighty God, the Everlasting Father; The Prince of Peace. Of the increase if His government and peace there shall be no end.

There never was a time in which people desired peace more than they do now. The proof of this fact is shown internationally by peace conference after peace conference. These peace treaties are made only to be broken and discarded as scraps of paper.

The religious world is striving for peace by a federation of churches, community church program, undenominational and interdenominational units, but these efforts also seem not to bring about the Utopia that we all desire.

The question of peace must be settled by a higher authority than any person or group in this world.

Jesus Christ is the only man who spoke with such authority. Even at the age of twelve He confounded the doctors of divinity and law of His day with questions and answers beyond their understanding. While Jesus Christ was active preaching the Gospel of His Kingdom, He spoke as one having authority so that demons were cast out and all manner of sickness was healed of the people who came to Him. Today our insane asylums are filled with people whom Jesus would say are demon possessed.

The fact is, if there was ever a time when this sick world needed peace it is today. We all know it and want peace, but the unfortunate thing is that we want peace without the Prince of Peace.

This world is much the same as it was in the days when Jesus Christ of Nazareth walked the shores of Galilee. They heard His message, saw His power demonstrated, but multitudes failed to give heed to His teachings. He pronounced severe judgments against the cities and towns where He did His greatest works. Today with the increase of knowledge every man is without excuse before God for not having an experimental knowledge of the saving grace of Jesus Christ. Once the joy of full salvation floods our soul every one of us will personally know the Prince of Peace. Then peace will cease to be something that you and I are seeking after, for we will have Him who alone can give peace. The religious leaders of Jesus' day were His greatest enemies. They were jealous of His success and were fearful that the world would follow Him, so they persuaded the authorities by mob violence to rush Him to a Roman cross for a premature death. While Jesus carried His heavy cross up the hill to Calvary, the women wept for Him but He said to them, "Weep not for Me, but for yourselves and your children." Today I wonder if we do not pity Jesus as we think of Him as He went to the cross for us, rather than consider the fact that if He had not died, we all would go to a place of endless sorrow and woe and none of us know the peace that we all desire.

4 SQUARE GOSPEL CHURCH, COSTA MESA

Shall we not all seek the Prince of Peace in our hearts,—for of the increase of His government and peace there shall be no end!

Reflections

By HAROLD R. BROWN

LEADERSHIP

On the gridirons were many examples of leadership which an adult could well take as samples of conduct.

Leadership implies a course of action which leads those who are to follow. The man or woman who assumes this role must instill in the hearts of those dependent upon them for guidance, those qualities which breed fair-play, resourcefulness, dependability, courage, faith in themselves and their associates. Leadership is that part of our being which shines like a beacon, it is that light which men follow, without question, either to their destruction or to their glory.

The leaders in Santa Ana are men who have gone through the fire of experience, who have displayed a spirit of compassion for their fellow men.

who have carried the torch of worthy purpose high and whose ambition is not restricted to selfishness but encompasses the finer instincts of a public spirited citizen.

Leadership is not something within a walled-in enclosure, it is as exposed as a goldfish in his bowl. It is as free as the air you breathe and the water you drink; and just as important. Leadership can take a man to the heights of the sublime or drag him in the mire of degradation.

You are someone's leader; where are you leading him?

Stamp News

By I. S. Klein

FOLLOWING the army-navy stamps will come the four to be issued for Alaska and the island possessions, and then probably a series honoring the American Indian, if rumor is correct. No official announcement to this effect has been issued, however.

Popularity of the Susan B. Anthony stamp has raised the total printed so far to 150,000,000.

Local postmasters have been forbidden to precancel commemorative stamps, so that any of these that have already been precanceled and sold should become desirable collectors' items.

While Postmaster General Farley recommends continuance of the three-cent postage rate for 1937, he has expressed his belief that the two-cent rate may return in 1938.

Finland is planning a series commemorating the 70th birthday of Field Marshall Mannerheim, leader in the War of Liberation, 1917-18.

There has been doubt whether the stamps issued by the old Ethiopian government at Gore recently ever were used for postage, although collectors have received mail purported to have been posted at Gore with these stamps. (Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.)

An unusual situation at the school prompted adding of the new subject. The school is made up of 57 per cent Jewish youngsters and 45 per cent Gentile. Each group was discovered to be uninformed of the religious observances of the other.

"We were faced with a situation uncommon in a public school," Lerne said. "When our Jewish students were out of school during the New Year holidays, the Gentile pupils couldn't understand why. At Christmas time the Jewish youngsters sat glum and close-mouthed during Yuletide observances." The same situation developed at Easter and Passover time. Faced with this condition, von Lerne held a conference with Rabbi Aronson and Mrs. Morris. Out of the meeting grew the idea of a class in tolerance.

"This plan of teaching our pupils tolerance will make them better citizens, each understanding the other," von Lerne said.

General HUGH S. JOHNSON

BY HUGH S. JOHNSON

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The Brookings Institution is out with a new attack on some of the President's announced policies and a defense of the Hoover philosophy which licked Mr. Landon—hours and wages should not be made more favorable to labor because that would increase prices, reduce production and retard recovery—that recovery came in 1932 and was hindered by the New Deal and that recovery has been greater abroad than here.

The New York Herald-Tribune hails the Institution as a Daniel come to judgment. The usual editorial salvo is "objective conclusions of the impartial and scientific Brookings Institution."

Oh yeah! It's last previously published ponderosity disclosed that it was just another tract by Maurice Leven, Harold G. Moulton and Clark Warburton—worthy enough wights, who yet wouldn't rate such "thunders in the index" in their own right. The fact is that we are here mainly dealing with the dogma of a very able but highly heading professor named Harold G. Moulton, Ph. D., LL. D. It would be more "scientific, objective and impartial" if he would stop calling himself the "Brookings Institution" even though he is 99-99-100 per cent of it.

Although some other countries are relatively more active industrially than we, none but Germany has improved nearly so fast and so far from its low point—and Germany is an economic wreck. The professor's statement about foreign recovery, is worse than merely unconsciously misleading.

Was the bottom of our depression reached in 1932? The statement is an affront to the intelligence of every survivor of March, 1933.

Leave hours of wages free to lengthen and fall—resulting low prices will restore production and employment! We tried that Hoover formula for three years to the longest hours and lowest wages and prices of a generation. Did that restore production? Ask the unemployed!

Something ought to be done about this. The tom-tom repetition that unregulated automatic production "does not cause unemployment" because "displaced producers find other employment" begins to sound like propaganda. It should be referred to a competent gold-fish bowl hearing and a truly impartial finding. It is the key question of our age. In the absence of a dependable answer, national policy moves in an impenetrable fog and it moves on the most perilous ground that nation ever trod.

In 1930, 2-3 of all employables were working in direct production and 1-3 in "other occupations". By 1936, 5-21 (12,000,000) of them had been shifted by machines out of direct production "into other occupations (?)", so that less than 1-2 were direct producers. Between 1919 and 1936, productivity per worker in manufacture increased nearly 54 points on a scale of a 100 but production per capita of all Americans, employed and unemployed, had declined 7 points. How do we get away from the conclusion from those figures that machine production is destroying employment?

Dr. Moulton gets away from that by intimating that this technological displacement is mainly in manufacture leaving plenty of jobs elsewhere. The census figures show that it is approximately as great in agriculture, transportation and mining, i. e. in all production and the 5-21 of employables (12,000,000) shifted "to other employment" look a good deal like last year's figures of the unemployed just as this latest Brookings pronouncement looks a good deal more like an advocate's brief than an "objective" conclusion.

Old General Store Goes To Cemetery

ORLEANS, Mass., (UP)—This town's general store, rendezvous for weather prophets and politicians the past 50 years, soon will become a cemetery chapel.

The building will be moved to the Orleans cemetery and converted into a chapel.

Provision for the chapel was made in the will of Miss Flora Hurd, who died here a year ago, leaving the building and the land on which it stands to the cemetery Association.

Monument Built On Grave for Leg

MENOMONEE, Wis., (UP)—In the weeds and thicket of an unkempt corner of St. Paul's cemetery near here lies a glistening white monument to the memory of a leg.

The story of the tombstone and the leg "decently buried" there is told by John Loew, a retired farmer.

About 1860, when Loew was a boy, George Krauder, a neighbor, suffered an ankle injury. A malignant tumor developed, and Krauder was forced to have the leg amputated.

Krauder gave his dismembered leg a fitting burial and marked the grave with a marble slab 18 by 10 inches inscribed: "Leg—George Krauder."

Two years later Krauder died. Loew said, but there is no stone in the cemetery marking his burial plot.

The Mixing Bowl

By ANN MEREDITH

Exercises planned to fit the tastes and needs of the middle-aged woman are almost as rare as the dodo-bird. At that age all one's tastes run to comfort and lots of sitting. But that is just the thing that upsets the most carefully planned diet regime. The excess fat disappears, 'tis true, but the flabby muscles leave one looking old and almost as big as before. . . . so, what's to do? Why not try tap-dancing? I know a good number of women around fifty who are taking tap-dancing solely as an exercise and getting worlds of benefit from it. If tap-dancing isn't possible, I do know that one can get a ten-cent rubber ball and a tennis racket and bat the ball against the walls of the garage or basement for ten minutes a day, and thus condition the flabby body.

Where there's a will, there's a way, y' know! . . .

Students Told Success Goes To Good Boys

LONDON (UP)—The majority of men holding important positions in the world were "good boys" at school.

Sir Josiah, who, after a brilliant scholastic career, rose to be chairman of the London, Midland and Scottish railway, disputed that old story that had boys at school become great men in later life.

"Statistics show," he said, "that by far the greatest proportion of great men and leaders of the world come from the top half of the grade."

MIDWAY CITY

MIDWAY CITY, Jan. 15.—An increase of approximately 15 per cent for the calendar year of 1936 over that of 1935, is announced for the Midway City post office by the postmistress, Myrtle Robertson.

There were 130 mail boxes rented in 1935; 110 for 1936. The general delivery patrons numbered approximately 35, making a total of 165 patrons for the office which is among the newest in the county.

The word "climate" literally means "slope," and in ancient Greece climates were merely zones of latitude on the surface of the earth.

Chicago Board of Trade

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—(UP)—Wheat

options ruled easier in a quiet trade in the Chicago market today. A small volume of liquidation and stop-loss selling induced by weakness abroad found the market almost sore of buying orders.

At the close wheat was 1/2 up to 1 1/2 cent, May 1 1/2 cent, new corn old corn was up 1/2 to 3/4 cent, May 1 1/2 cent, oats were up 1/2 to 3/4 cent, May 3/4 cent.

Opening prices were down major fractions in response to a decline in the price of Liverpool. The buying was not great enough to digest the selling, however, and in the last hour of the short session prices again moved downward.

Pressure of Argentine wheat afloat offset purchases of southern hemi-spheric wheat by Italy and England and prices at Liverpool declined. The Buenos Aires and Rotterdam markets also closed lower.

CITRUS MARKET

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 16.—(UP)—

The market on California navel oranges opened strong this week and at the close was easier on medium to small.

Supplies of California oranges in the markets are still very light due to the cold, rainy weather that has prevailed and indications are that it will be another 10 days before anything like normal supplies will be available.

F. O. B. California quotations are generally higher with 1966 and larger on a basis of $3.40 to $3.50 to $3.55 and $3.65, $4.25 to $4.50.

There are on hand and available for sale within the next 30 days in all United States ports, no foreign lemons. For the corresponding period in 1936 there were 16 cars; 1935,

4 cars; 1934, 13 cars; 1933, 47 cars, and 1932, 37 cars.

The prorate of navel orange shipments for next week has been set at 5 cars interstate and 25 cars intrastate from Central California districts and 795 cars interstate and 300 cars intrastate from Southern California.

THE UNITED STATES A LAND OF SCARCITY

We believe there is no country in all the world, in all history, in which there is as much scarcity as there is in the United States.

This, of course, is an amazing statement when people have been told so often by those who have very little, if any, capital, that this is a land of plenty and there is plenty of capital. It is a very strange condition that those who have little, if any, capital are sure there is plenty of capital and that this is a land of plenty and that those who have the most capital are just as certain this is a land of scarcity and there is a great need for more and more capital. Of course, at the same time, we realize the United States has the highest standard of living in the world.

But let us explain why we say this is a land of scarcity. It is a land of scarcity for the simple reason that there is a greater difference between the total wants of our people and our ability to supply these wants than there is in any other country in all the world or at any other time in all history. This being true, the United States is a land of scarcity instead of a land of plenty.

It is true because our people are intelligent enough to have almost unlimited demands and desires. Would the inhabitants of the South Sea islands, who cannot read, have any desire for books or newspapers? Would they have any desire for automobiles, radios, rooms, thermostatically controlled, heated and cooled hospitals, chemical factories, beauty, cleanliness and art, when they could not operate or enjoy these things? These barbarous, or semi-barbarous, people would have little use for all these comforts to which we Americans have become accustomed and are entitled, provided we have common sense enough to permit them to be produced. We have a desire not for one automobile, but one for every member of the family; we have a desire not for one radio, but one for nearly every room in the house and in every car. Do peasants in Russia, Germany or Italy have a desire for all these things? They cannot even imagine such a thing being possible for an ordinary skilled workman. They expect these things for the ruler and for a few others but they do not expect them for the masses, as we do. They are satisfied to do without them but we are not. Our wants increase much more rapidly than our ability to supply our wants. The wants of an intelligent man are many, many times the wants of a South Sea islander, being fed on coconuts and other fruits.

Consequently, the great unsatisfied wants of our people make this truly a land of scarcity.

GLENN FRANK'S DISMISSAL

We believe that Glenn Frank should have been dismissed from the head of the University of Wisconsin because of his inability to stimulate clear thinking. We do not believe he was dismissed for this reason. It was undoubtedly because of a purely political move on the part of the LaFollette, who advocated principles that would eventually lead to complete state socialism, that he was dismissed. Frank does not go quite as far as they do.

As a concrete illustration of Frank's loose thinking, which disqualifies him to be at the head of a university, we refer to his article published in The Register in his column on January 8. In this article, he contends that there must be a mass market in order to use the productive capacity of the country. We believe this is an error. We believe the productive capacity of a country could be used without a mass market.

We agree that it would be proper, better and desirable, to have a mass market but it is not essential in order to have complete use of all the productive capacity of the country.

It is true that the nature of the production would be changed if it were not based to supply a broad market. There has been no way down through the ages that a mass market could be developed other than by allowing the individual to make mistakes and suffer the consequences. If people will not learn to adjust themselves to Society and produce something they can exchange for what others produce, there has never been a way devised whereby they can enjoy the fruits of production. Every time it is tried to give them the fruits of production, they cease making an effort and the productive resources of the nation are greatly reduced and society as a whole suffers.

Of course, the head of an educational institution supported by taxpayers' money must advocate the popular theories—that no one need be deprived of the comforts because they cannot produce their own comforts.

The columns of The Register are open to Glenn Frank to answer this and be paid for writing an answer, if he cares to do so.

WOULDN'T IT BE GREAT?

Admiring the sincerity and the thoughtful energy displayed by Santa Ana Junior College students in conducting their campaign for election of new officers this week, we suggest, "Wouldn't it be great if that same sincerity and thoughtful energy carried over into the world of 'every day'?"

Of course, a thousand times "no," we wouldn't suggest that the present group of Junior College students ever will be anything but sincere and thoughtfully energetic. But we will suggest that many of those who make their living in the field of politics now, those who once may have been sincere and thoughtfully energetic Junior College students, aren't what they used to be. A friend of ours once told us that "no politician is honest." We think him a cynic. We think he met up with several politicians and "lost" to them in a battle of wits. Perhaps not. Perhaps, they were forced to "buy him off." No argument, no reasoning, will change his viewpoint. Our viewpoint on politicians never has been so massacred.

But we think, and say, that one of the greatest needs in America today is for politicians who, with the natural development which comes with mental growth, will retain the sincerity and thoughtful energy expressed this week by Santa Ana's Junior College elective candidates, in their published statements. We need politicians in whom we can believe, today, tomorrow and many tomorrows.

IT MIGHT HAPPEN TO YOU

In a fast-moving age, with so many of us so often thoughtless, it is a pleasant feeling to know there are groups among us who take our safety as well as their own, to heart, enough to try to remedy, by suggestion or teaching, the evils of carelessness.

On January 19 and 20, the Santa Ana Council P. T. A. will present "It Might Happen to You," their safety program play to be presented by a professional cast from Los Angeles. The P. T. A. members are taking your safety and theirs, to heart. At the beginning of 1936, every community in the United States "resolved" to bring more safety to their highways, yet there were approximately 2900 more deaths in 1936 traffic than in the traffic of 1935. What price thoughtlessness!

Santa Ana needs to offer its safety-minded organizations, such as the P. T. A., twice as much praise as any other organizations—and then, at least figuratively speaking, to send them orchids! Let us not "resolve" at the beginning of 1937, to be safety-minded, and then fail as we did during 1936.

WELCOME, CHIEFS!

We sincerely hope that members of the Southern California Fire Chiefs' club and their families and friends, here today and this evening for the club's 21st semi-annual convention, will avail themselves of the hospitality which Santa Ana wants to offer them.

On behalf of the city and official host, John Luxembourg, chief of the local fire department, The Register wishes to extend a hearty welcome to all of the visitors. May all of them find much pleasure in their visit here.

REGISTER CLEARING HOUSE

(The articles under the Clearing House are published for the purpose of an exchange of ideas and are not necessarily the opinion of this newspaper. Contributors are urged to confine their articles to 300 words.)

Editor Register: Apropos of your several editorials of recent dates about Hitler, permit me to first quote an expression used by Clemenceau the Tiger, it should be the "Vulture" at the peace conference in Versailles: "We will make them our slaves for the next two hundred years, we will bleed them white, we will pick their bones clean," thus spoke the Tiger and his subsequent actions showed that he meant it. By "them" he meant Germany, the fallen foe of the allies, France, England et al. They DID make slaves of them and they DID bleed them white and they DID pick their bones clean. And good pickings it was, no dangers connected with same in fact just an interesting as well as profitable indoor sport. The former foe was tied in a knot body and soul and did not have as much as an bow and arrow for self defense. French commissions traveled throughout Germany requisitioning about everything that was eatable or moveable especially milk cows that were shipped to France for beef because Clemenceau the Tiger figured that by killing German babies through malnutrition they would be killing future German soldiers, potential enemies.

Then came Hitler the very thing they themselves had created, and, if the SANTA HITLER as you call him has been able to send a herring and a slice of sausage to women and children for Christmas, then he surely is entitled to a lot of credit for having saved that much from the claws of those Buzzards. The writer at that time visited towns in Germany where neither love nor money could buy a herring or a slice of sausage because the French or Allied commission had just visited the place and had picked it clean by confiscation.

Today of course its different. The easy pickings days are over in so far as those renegades are concerned. It simply showed what can be done to a man that has no gun.

I am not a Nazi, but a law-abiding American citizen, have lived in this country, however, and know what I am talking about. Tons of miles, kilometers of nonsense is being handed out through the press to the American public that is only second in misrepresentation to war lies of earlier days. There is no use of talking or kidding, Hitler insofar as the German people are concerned is the greatest man for Germany that said country has produced during the last hundred years and sixty five million people in that country believe that to be true so where do we come in with our criticism?

As regards an article written by Mr. Young quoting an extract presumably from the "Frankfurter Zeitung" in which the latter claims that one million tons of seed rye would have to be withdrawn for food purposes should be taken with a big grain of salt. The writer is under the impression that Mr. Young's main source of that kind of European news is the same source as used by quite a few American Berlin correspondents, namely the Bartender at the Hotel Adlon in Berlin who is always obliging with inside news. If Mr. Young will consult the "Deutscher Landwirtschaflicher Kalender" this statement is a good deal better than the view with which it is interpreted, and, if rightly considered, it can be used as an instrument of progress and not as a device for prevention of action."

Papa Will Spank! In other words, Franklin D. Roosevelt has no present intention of urging any amendment. It seems to him enough to shake his finger at the nine justices and say, "Naughty! Naughty!"

I do not think this plan of action is a good deal better than the view with which it is interpreted, and, if rightly considered, it can be used as an instrument of progress and not as a device for prevention of action."

For 1934 and 1935 he will find the statement that the total seed tonnage required for rye for Germany was 685,000 tons, hence, how can one deduct one million tons from that amount? Another thing, if it were the actual truth, the Frankfurter Zeitung would have ceased to exist with the issue containing this statement.

Rushing The Egg-Rolling Season

It Seems to Me by HEYWOOD BROWN

That part of the President's message which deals with the Constitution and the court seems to me extremely discouraging. Mr. Roosevelt at the moment takes the attitude that no change is needed in the instrument itself and that progressive legislation can be passed if only the judges will become loose constructionists.

To be sure, he did not use that phrase. He merely spoke of "an increasingly enlightened view." But this brings us back to the old difficulty of the meaning of words. The measure which may seem to Mr. Roosevelt "enlightened" may quite possibly seem to somebody on a bench either reckless or reactionary.

I have not devoted very much space to defending the nine members of the supreme court. I would like to see them all fashioned along the pattern of Brandeis, Cardozo or Stone, and yet it would be most unfair to say that there was no legal warrant for some of the most adverse decisions against administration measures. It is well remembered that NRA was thrown out by a unanimous vote. It is possible, perhaps, that something of the structure could be reenacted, but even that remains to be proved.

Much Better Than Nothing I think myself that NRA was something less than a perfect setup, but I am beginning to wonder whether the faults did not lie in the administration of the scheme rather than in the plan itself. At any rate, it seems to me that something along similar lines is more desirable than the jungle philosophy of laissez faire. And yet there is reason to believe that even the most liberal members of the supreme court will be bound to rule that there is no constitutional warrant.

Mr. Roosevelt said in his message: "During the last year there has been a growing belief that there is little fault to be found with the Constitution of the United States as it stands today. The vital need is not an alteration of our fundamental law, but an increasingly enlightened view with reference to it. Difficulties have grown out of its interpretation, and, if rightly considered, it can be used as an instrument of progress and not as a device for prevention of action."

Sooner or later President Roosevelt will have to face the fact that supreme court strangulation is a much deeper problem than that of personality. I think there is a growing belief that there is a good deal wrong with the Constitution itself. After doing an obeisance to the ark, Mr. Roosevelt proceeded to discuss unemployment, slum clearance and other problems which never entered the minds of the founding fathers. A supreme court justice, if rebuffed for trying to bring the country back to horse and buggy days, would logically reply that the Constitution was a document prepared by and for a horse and buggy nation. The brakes which it provided are not suited to a more modern vehicle.

If Franklin D. Roosevelt really means to fight for a clear road for liberal legislation he will have to advocate amendments. He will have to use his fist. An admonishing forefinger is not enough.

THE WEAKLY NEWS

Weather. Bum.
SPORTING PAGE
Saturday morning Puds Simkins and Shorty Judge waited about a half a hour trying to attract a crowd by pointing up in the air and yelling Hay, you, get off of that roof, only nobody going pass would even look up, much less stop and help to make a crowd, so Puds and Shorty went somewhere else to get a crowd.

Probably I'm very old-fashioned. When the President spoke bitterly of a supreme court decision and used his famous "horse and buggy" phrase he was bitterly assailed as being guilty of a hideous impropriety. I did not agree at all with his criticism. There is ample American tradition which holds that the chief executive of the nation has every right to curse the court after the event, but this time Mr. Roosevelt goes much further. He goes too far, for it seems to me that in effect he is advising the supreme court as to what its decisions should be.

That, I think, really is interference by the executive with the judiciary. Of course, if a vacancy arises it will be Mr. Roosevelt's right (and I would even add duty) to appoint some one with a reputation for liberal thought. And yet there are limits to the closeness with which the minds should meet. For instance, I think it would be improper for a President to draw a prospective appointee to the high bench into an inner room and say, "No, Jake, before I send your name to the Senate I want to find out precisely how you are going to vote on the following pieces of pending legislation."

Such a procedure would not only be improper but pretty useless. Men have a habit of living a very long time after they get on the supreme court, and nobody could possibly foresee the various problems which might come before them in the course of the years or their reaction to them. Today's liberal may come to be little old last year's Tory. Once upon a time there were three little bears and McReynolds was considered a progressive.

OUR CHILDREN

BY ANGELO PATRI

A GOOD START

The end of any undertaking is set in its beginning. A healthy seed, a careful plan, a rounded thought will give the beginning such a sturdy impetus that the end cannot but be worth while. A kindly Providence so arranged the schedule of our living that we have beginning every 24 hours. We do not make enough of the privilege of a fresh start. More often than not we forget we are making a start and hurry stupidly along into another messy and unworthy day.

Whatever work one does is done by the grace and the strength of the spirit. It is spiritual courage, spiritual power spiritual will that calls out physical strength and endurance. Not the other way around. Even the most heedless give some thought to their physical preparation for the day, bathing and dressing and eating before starting, but even the most thoughtful and careful forget about the all important preparation of the spirit. Mothers and fathers and teachers stand in special need of this preparation.

The tension that growing children create in the adults who are close to them is something that has to be considered gravely if there is to be harmony and health in the family. The children cannot help being noisy, out of time and tune with the adults, but the adults can do something to maintain their poise, their good sense and calm judgment, all of which they must guard for the good of the group.

They can nourish and adorn their spirits before they give thought to their bodies when beginning the day. The two can go forward together to some extent. A few minutes can be devoted to the cultivation of the spirit while the body rests. There is always a way.

Each must decide for himself what will best nourish his spirit for the day. The handbooks that offer a daily thought help some; the prayer book and the Bible are for others; some grain of religious philosophy helps others. Singing a hymn, quoting a fine bit of prose or poetry serves for others. Some bit of buoyant beauty is what is needed and for each, his own.

It will not cost too much time. The few minutes necessary in the quiet of one's spirit will not hinder the work of the morning, but will further it because on the power gained in those few quiet minutes the best of the day's work is going to be done.

This is not a matter of willing to do right. No will beyond the will to be still and know that the spirit will speak, is needed. This is only a response to a great need, easily given by yielding to the stillness of mind and body that is waiting to take over. It is not necessary to say, "Now I'll be quiet and read my lesson for the day and make myself peace-filled and calm." Forget about making yourself anything and be still. Let your spirit grow and wax strong within you. Allow it, don't try to abide with force. It is a perishing force in itself and so none other is needed.

Try starting the day with your spirit in tune and you will find that your body goes along with it, that your work goes along with it, too, and that your day will be happier, richer and truly worthy.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply. (Copyright, 1937, The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

For some days now I have been commenting on Mr. Roosevelt's insistence that the objectives of the NRA are still valid and that new and better ways must be found to reach them.

With this I heartily agree. From the hour of its inception and throughout its existence, I wrote and spoke critically of mistakes in emphasis, application, and administration which marred the history of the NRA, but I was and am in complete and unqualified agreement with the broad objectives originally set up for it and for business in the preamble to the National Industrial Recovery Act. The NRA set out to improve living standards and effect a general employment of the people through three major devices:

First, through a full, not restricted, use of the productive facilities of the nation;

Second, through a wider spread of buying power;

Third, through a working partnership between business and private enterprise, with government playing the part, not of operator or dictator of detailed procedures, but of attorney for the common good, setting up the social goals which private enterprise should help the people reach and establish such stimulus and penalty as might insure that private enterprise would work towards these goals.

All three of these procedures are sound.

But now that there is talk of reviving and revising the NRA, it is important to recall the mistakes of emphasis, application, and administration which marred the NRA before.

Here are some things that must be avoided in the future:

The old NRA substituted the laissez faire selfishness of groups for the laissez faire selfishness of individuals.

The old NRA eliminated fair as well as unfair types of competition.

The old NRA fixed prices in a manner that robbed the consuming public of the legitimate fruits of superior management.

The old NRA, in practical effect, sought to provide abundance by creating scarcity.

The old NRA pursued policies that resulted in prices rising faster than wages, thus wiping out what might otherwise have been a social gain.

The old NRA threw a protective wall around a vast amount of inefficient management by its price fixing and its doctrinaire attempt to check the impact of competition.

The old NRA quite overlooked the fact that a sound economic advance cannot be achieved through an artificial freezing or raising of prices, but through a lowering of prices by superior management so that vast new demands are created.

These and a dozen other facts must be taken into account as we attempt to revise the NRA.
